PRISON COMFORTS MOTIVE FOR EVIL

President Taft Thinks it Encourages Criminals to Violate the Law.

ADDRESSES PRISON CONGRESS

Warns Against Associating Young Criminals With Hardened Lawbreakers.—President Butler Opens Convention.

Washington, Sept. 29.—In receiving the delegates of the International Prison Congress in the East room of the White House today, President Taft cautioned them against making prisons so comfortable as to furnish a motive for violating the law and also warned against associating prisonrs who were not criminals with hardened lawbreakers.

The President said that some times when he had visited the prisons of this government he had thought they were stronger in theory than in practice. He expressed the hope, however, that this government now had prisons that illustrated at some length, some improvements that the Prison Congress recommended. He said that Attorney General Wickersham, who had given some attention to the matter, would be at the coming conference to make and receive suggestions.

"Such an association as this is an evidence of the growing civilization of the world," continued the President, "especially since so many countries take an interest in the proper humane development and treatment of their criminals.

"I hope that your convention will still more widely spread information on the treatment of criminals and the making of them into useful members of society; and that your deliberations will not by influenced by maudlin sentiment on the one hand or by desire for vengeance on the other. it is easy to err in each direction. If we make our prisons so comfortable as to furnish a motive for violating the law, they will not then serve the use for which they were properly established. On the other hand they are certainly not properly framed and used if, by associating with hardened criminals men who are not criminals, and who may be saved altogether becoming criminals, the number of criminals is increased rather than diminished."

The opening session of the annual convention of the American Prison Association was held tonight at which President Amos. W. Butler, of Indianapolis, Ind., delivered his annual address, taking as his subject "Convicts and Conservation." Te report of the committee of discharged prisoners was made to the convention by F. A. Whittier, superintendent of the Minnesota State Training School for Boys.

The American Association will close its convention Saturday and the opening session of the International Prison Congress will be held Sunday afternoon. The convention will continue during the week.

Several hundred delegates to the two conventions have arrived and the visitors spent the day in sight-seeing.

WANT SAFETY APPLIANCES.

Railroad Representatives At Hearing Before Commerce Commission.

Washington, Sept. 29.—Two hundred railroad officials and operatives from all parts of the country, at a hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission discussed uniform standards of safety appliances.

Within a fortnight the commission, by law, must issue an order designating the number, location and application of safety appliances on railroad cars, to comply with the intent of the Congress to provide facilities that will adequately protect life and property. The regulations, suggested tentatively by conferences between the railroad men and the commission during the last six months, were under consideration today and on them the order of the commission will be based.

Haile Holden, of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, speaking for the committee representing 200 operating roads, 198,000 miles of lines, 2,000,000 cars and 52,000 locomotives, said it was the desire of the roads to reach as high a standard of safety of equipment as posible. The cost of the proposed equipment, he added, would apto some of the proposed regulations, because in the opinion of the railroad experts, they lacked flexibility.

President Garreston, of the Order of Railway Conductors, contended that the adoption of proper safety appliances was merely a matter of safety to the employes of railroads and to the public and ought not to be considerede in the light of expense. This was the view taken by President Lee, of th Railway Trainmen, President Hawley, of the Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and Vice-President Hurley, of the Locomotive Engineers.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 29.—For a reason which is not clear, but presumably because she is not now in Norfolk, Mrs. J. E. B. Stuart, widow of the great cavalry leader in the war between the States, has declined the appointment tendered her to be sponsor for the State at large at tre approaching meeting of the State Grand Camp of Confederate Veterans in Norfonlk.

VERGE OF ANOTHER UPHEAVAL

Boxer Uprisings About to be Repeated in China—Advices Received at Washington—Foreigners May be in Jeopardy.

Washington, Sept. 29.—China is declared to be on the verge of another upheaval, similar to the boxer uprising and lives of foreigners are in jeopardy. Advices received here recently from government officials in China express the belief that an outbreak at any time would not surprise them. The State Department has instructed its diplomatic and consular officials to maintain a close watch on the internal conditions.

All through the Summer months there have been mutterings of discontent in some of the Chinese provinces, due to the rice famine, dynastic difficulties and dissatisfaction over acts of the Pekin government as to foreign investments in China. Good harvests mitigated to some extent the gravity of the situation but there is still a general feeling of unrest according to personal letters received here from men on duty in that quarter.

The army and the navy are prepared for any emergency, but their readiness is solely a precautionary measure, it is said, and should not be taken as an indication of immediate danger.

Authentic advices from those charged with keeping in touch with the conditions indicate that the only thing lacking to parallel today's situation with that preceding the boxer troubles, which drew into China the American forces as well as those of other Nations, is the organization and that only needs a leader to effect that.

Every vessel in the Asiatic fleet, as well as the military forces at Manila, is prepared for almost instant action in the event the trouble breaks.

Revolutionary uprisings are of greater or less frequency throughout China and it is recognized by Washington authorities that trouble is liable to occur at any time in some of the provinces.

Boston, Sept. 29.—No reports of unrest in China have been received recently at the headquarters here of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions.

The unrest in China in the belief of the American board officials is the result of a newly awakened National feeling among the Chinese people. The slogan of an ever increasing element, "China for Chinese" has been heard throughout the Empire and the anti-foreign feeling is not directed against missionaries as Christians, but rather because they are foreigners.

The American board's mission stations in China are divided among three districts. Foo Chow, South China and North China.

LORIMER INVESTIGATION.

Representative Beckemeyer on Stand —Received Money After Vote.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Representative H. J. C. Beckemeyer, on the witness stand today before the Lorimer investigating committee of the United States Senate, testified that he received $1,000 after he had voted for William Lorimer for United States Senator and that the money was paid to him because of his vote.

Beckemeyer was the third legislator in this hearing to declare that he received money for his vote in the Senatorial election, Representative White and State Senator Holtslaw being the others.

Counsel for Senator Lorimer brought out in cross-examination that Beckemeyer's vote for Senator Lorimer was not induced by the promise of any payment.

Beckemeyer who was a witness in the two trials of Minority Leader Lee O'Neil Browne, who was acquitted of bribing Representative White, testified that the $1,000 was paid to him by Browne, who said as he gave him a roll of bills 'Here is the Lorimer money.'

"I understood when I got the money that it was for my vote for Senator Lorimer," said the witness.

On cross-examination Beckemeyer was questioned about conversations he had with Representative Michael Link, another Democratic legislator who voted for Senator Lorimer and who is expected to be a witness before the committee tomorrow.

In one of these conversations, Beckemeyer testified, Link said to him, "My testimony does not fit with yours, I promised to vote for Senator Lorimer long before the election and did not receive any money for it."

John W. Dennis, of East St. Louis, Ill., at one time a partner of Representative White, testified that in June, 1909, White paid a number of bills. He said that prior to a trip to Chicago, White had no money, but after his return he had a considerable sum.

TWO DIE "PLAYING DOCTOR."

Children Swallowed Carbolic Acid and Suffered Great Agony.

Covington, Ky., Sept. 29.—While playing doctor today, a son and a daughter of Thomas Cobb, swallowed carbolic acid and died soon afterwards. They were 5 and 7 years old.

The children were playing in the kitchen of their home during the absence of their mother. They found a bottle of carbolic acid.

"Let's play doctor," one suggested. They found two spoons and two glasses and divided the acid into two portions which they swallowed.

Their screams of agony brought the mother from the neighbor's but before a physician could reach them both were dead. The coroner will hold an inquest.

BROOKINS' FLIGHT DISTANCE RECORD

Aviator Flies From Chicago to Springfield Covering 186 Miles.

GOES FASTER THAN EXPRESS

Thousands of People See Aeroplane As It Passes Along the Route—Wins Fame and $10,000 Prize of Newspaper.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Aviator Walter Brookin broke the American cross-country sustained flight record today by completing a flight of 186 miles from Chicago to Springfield, Ill. The flight was made with two descents, one at Gilman, Ill., where he remained on the ground 70 minutes and another at Mount Pulaski, Ill., where he stayed but 25 minutes on the ground.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 29.—Aviator Walter Brookins alighted gracefully with his aeroplane in the State Fair grounds at 4:27 P. M., seven hours and 40 minutes out from Chicago, having sailed his Wright biplane the 186 miles with two stops.

He descended at Gilman, Ill., 75 miles from Chicago, at 11:30 A. M., and at Mount Pulaski, Ill., 163 miles from Chicago at 3:20 P. M. The first stop was for water, oil and gasoline; the second for supplies and because his pump had broken and the engines became hot.

The railroad distance from the start in Chicago to Springfield is 187 miles, His official starting time was 9.15 a.m. The longest sustained flight was from Gilman, Ill., to Mount Pulaski, 88 miles.

Brookins thus broke Charles K. Hamilton's record for sustained cross-country flight of 86 miles from New York to Philadelphia. He also made the longest cross-country continued flight in America and thereby won the $10,000 prize offered by the Chicago Record-Herald. In both places where the aviator alighted, vast throngs gathered.

As Brookins swept out of the field at Mount Pulaski, one of the small rubber tired wheels, on which he rolls in making headway before arising, struck a hummock and was wrenched off. Brookins, not knowing of the accident rose 2,000 feet, and headed for Springfield swirled away, leaving the Illinois Central special train far behind.

This was the second railroad locotive that the aviator had left far behind in a fair race. Engineer W. F. Burt, who made the first attempt to defeat the air craft had to give up the attempt at Clinton, Ill.

Brookins reached the State Fair Grounds eight minutes before the Illinois Central fast special train reached the Springfield station 3 1-2 miles short of the fair grounds. The actual flying time was five hours 44 minutes for the 192 1-2 miles, an average of 33 miles an hour.

The crowd at the Fair Grounds surged about Brookins threatening to crush the machine, till he had to make a personal appeal to get the throng back.

When those on the special train reached the aeroplane, nearly half an hour after the aviator landed he said: "Where have you been all the time? I got here and have been waiting to lunch with you as I promised. You have kept me waiting half an hour."

Asked about the flight he said:

"Why it was nothing only staying up, that's all. It merely took more time and thats about the only difference from a practice flight. I knew i could make it.

"It was one of the prettiest flights I ever made. There must have been three fourths of a million people looking up at me.

"My arms are tired and it was quite a strain, because I had to watch all the while, but I am good for the same thing right now, if necessary.

Wilbur Wright's first comment was: "As the woman says, I told you so."

Later Mr. Wright added: "There was never a time when I felt he would not make it. I think this trip has shown conclusively that the aeroplane is a successful navigator of the air and those who followed the machine from Chicago in the train with me probably feel, as confident and sure of it now as I do.'

Officers of the State Fair Asociation who had accompanied the newspaper men on the Illinois Central special were jubilant over the success of the flight.

Only water, oil and gasoline and a balky pump stood between Brookins and a continuous, sustained flight between Chicago and Springfield.

Never was there a prettier race, say those who witnessed a part of it, than that between the aeroplane and the special train on the Illinois Central. Two locomotives were used, each running about half the distance, but neither was ahead when the aeroplane made its descents. Each time the watchers, craning their heads out of the windows of the tr'n, saw Brookins alight and the conductor stopped the train when it came up to the aeroplane.

Aboard the train all was excited

TEDDY PLANS LIVE CAMPAIGN

Returns Home in Triumph After Great Victory at Saratoga—Will Wage Active Fight for the Progressives.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 29.—Theodore Roosevelt returned early this evening from Saratoga with the scalp of the Republican old guard of New York State added to his big collection of trophies. When he reached Troy, N. Y., last Monday on his way to Saratoga, he told the crowd which met him at the station that when he had returned from Africa with a lot of trophies and that when he came back from Saratoga he would have some more.

The Colonel made good his word by returning to his home town the generally accepted leader of the Republican party in the State and immensely proud of his new trophy, to win which he was compelled to make one of the hardest fights of his life.

Col. Roosevelt went to bed early tonight to get a good night's sleep, for he expected to have little rest until after election time. He was tired and hoarse, but in fine spirits. He expressed himself as well pleased with the result of the convention.

The Colonel took the train from Saratoga at 8 o'clock this morning reach-Poughkeepsie at noon he attended a luncheon, drove two miles to the Dutchess county fair grounds and made a speech in which he repeated his assertion which corruption must not be tolerated.

On reaching New York late in the afternoon he started at once for Oyster Bay. He had no visitors this evening and said that he hoped to have a quiet time for the next few days as there will be no let-up when once the campaign is fairly under way. He has placed his services at the disposal of the Republican State Committee and hopes to make at least one speech in every county in the State. He will try to make the campaign one of the liveliest which New York State has seen in many a year. Early in the Summer he made no secret of his opinion that the chances for a Republican victory in the State this Fall were not at all bright.

Now in view of the victory of the progressives at the convention, the colonel believes the party has an excellent chance of winning the election.

In addition to the campaign at home, Col. Roosevelt has much to do elsewhere. A week from today he is to start on his Southern trip which will extend over a little more than a week. On this trip he will speak at Knoxville, Tenn., before the Appalachian Exposition; one in Atlanta at the Uncle Remus Day Celebration and in Hot Springs, Ark. Then turning North he will speak at Peoria, Ill., before the Knights of Columbus and will make a campaign speech in Indiana for Senator Beveridge.

At his offices in New York tomorrow the colonel will hold a conference to lay the first plans for the campaign.

Layne, who was arrested here about a week ago and detained for the Jacksonville, Fla., authorities under the name of Guy Walker, on a charge of the theft of $600 at that place, was released when it was shown that his arrest was due to mistaken identity. Layne, whose home is in Fredericksburg, Va., proved he could not have been in Florida at the time of the theft and he was released despite the fact tnat he tallied perfectly with the description of Ely, the man wanted.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 29.—Inspector of Police James Casey, second in command of the police department of Cincinnati, against whom charges of receiving graft have been made by a witness at the graft investigation, was suspended today by Chief of Police Milliken.

BROKER'S OFFICE FALLS UNDER BAN

Sensational Raid on New York's Curb Market by Federal Agents.

SEVEN BROKERS IN CUSTODY

B. H. Scheftel & Co., Charged With Questionable Mining Operations—Big Advertising Campaign—Connections n Several Cities—Bonds.

New York, Sept. 29.—Following one of the most sensational raids ever engineered by federal authorities in this city, directed today against the firm of B. H. Scheftel & Company, brokers in Broad street, seven members of the company, including B. H. Scheftel, its president, were held in heavy bail this evening by United States Commissioner Shields for hearing on October 5th, on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

Tonight search is being made by the police and by government inspectors for George Granam Rice, whose real name is said to be Simon Herzig, the originator of the race track bet tipping system, who is declared to be the real head of the concern.

At the time of the raid here, announcement was made from Washington that warrants had been issued for the managers of the company's branch offices in Boston, Providence, Philadelphia, Detroit, Chicago and Milwaukee. According to agents of the Department of Justice the Scheftel company has been engaged in promoting the sale of mining securities of doubtful value in all parts of the country. Estimates of the firm's dealings are placed as high as $5,000,000.

The seven men arraigned here are B. H. Scheftel, Charles F. Belser, secretary of the company; George T. Sullivan, Clarence McCormack, James Delaney, William T. Seagrave and Chas. B. Stone. Warrants for 16 men had been issued, but the others, including Rice and Charles S. Herzig, who is said to be his brother, eluded the raiders. Rice had been in his offices earlier in the day, but had left before the officers swooped down on the place.

A surety company gave bail in $15,000 for Scheftel; $3,000 for Seagrave, $3,000 for Stone and $2,500 for Delaney. Belser, McCormack and Sullivan were committed to the Tombs as bondsmen were not forthcoming. While the hearing was set for October 5th, it is expected that the Federal grand jury will have taken action before that time.

The firm of B. H. Scheftel & company was organized about two years ago and had conducted a large business, mainly through an extensive advertising propaganda. Mining specialties were its chief offering to investors. A weekly newspaper was published to reach clients and a corps of 35 stenographers is said to have been required to attend to its correspondence. After the arrests today two patrol wagon loads of papers, books and memoranda were seized by the inspectors for examination.

Proceedings against the concern, it was stated, had been contemplated by the government for some time, but action was deferred until an investigation of the properties controlled by it could be investigated. Special agents are said to have been sent into Western States to look up these properties and the raid was decided upon when their reports were received.

Another charge against the company by George Scarborough, the government inspector, who made the complaint, is that it had resorted to what he called a "crooked bucket shop scheme." He declared the concern had charged customers six per cent. on margins and had collected commissions without rendering any service in return. The difference between the actual prices of stocks on curb market, and fictitious quotations given customers, Scarborough also alleges, was converted to the company's use. In his complaint the defendants are accused of attempting to defraud William A. Childs, Charles H. Schlack and Dr. D. J. Symanski.

The raid today was made while the curb market was in full swing and attracted much attention. Thousands rushed to the scene and police reserves had to be called out to clear a path or the patrol wagons.

Chicago Office Raided.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—The raid of the offices of B. H. Scheftels & Company, at 190 LaSalle street, in Chicago, was raided by Deputy United States marshals. The manager, E. L. Mead, was arrested. Clerks, stenographers and telegraphers were served with subpoenas to appear later as witnesses.

Manager Mead was taken before United States Commissioner Foote. He waived examination and furnished a $5,000 bond.

United States District Attorney Sims ordered the arrests in Chicago on receiving a 400 word cipher telegram from Henry A. Wise, Federal attorney in New York.

INQUIRY GROWS SENSATIONAL

Name of Former Portsmouth, Va., Pastor, Who Moved Two Years Ago, Recorded as Voting in Virginia Primary.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 29.—The reading of the name of Rev. D. P. Harris, now pastor of the Central Baptist church, Chattanooga, Tenn., as one of those recorded as having voted in Portsmouth when Rev. Mr. Harris has been in Chattanooga for two years, was one of the many sensational developments in today's investigation of the recent second district Democratic Congressional primary election in which William A. Young, of Norfolk, appeared to have defeated Congressman H. L. Maynard by 45 votes.

Two ministers, Rev. Dr. R. B. Garrett, Baptist, and Rev. R. M. Maxey, Methodist, both testified that they did not vote in Portsmouth, when the poll books showed they did and Rev. Dr. Garrett said he knew Rev. Mr. Harris did not vote. J. M. Davis testified that he, Congressman Maynard, and John L. Watson, a prominent Portsmouth man, entered the polls together; that after Maynard voted and went away, it was proposed by one of the judges of election that former City Treasurer Tabb was out of the city whereupon, according to witness Davis, it was declared by Watson that he should put a vote in for Tabb and Davis put one in for J. McK. Jack, a banker, who Davis had said was also away. Davis declared he refused, but that Watson put a vote in. The poll books showed that L. McK. Jack voted and Mr. Jack appearing said he did not vote. The books did not show that Tabb voted. Mr. Watson appearing later said he was simply jesting with Davis in the poll's and cast no fraudulent ballot. He said he had contributed from his own pocket for the conduct of the investigation in progress and that the Davis charges were false.

Citizens' counsel failed in their attempt today to have both Maynard and Young testify as to their campaign expenses.

The investigation will be transferred to Portsmouth tomorrow for the investigation of charges there alleged by Young.

The committee will adjourn Saturday night and give decision in Richmond October 4th.

Counsel for citizens today notified Commonwealth's Attorney Hilton that they will send witnesses before the October grand jury here Monday.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 29.—Sensational evidence was introduced at tonight's session of the committee, when various witnesses testified that men recorded as voting in Ha..'s Corner, Norfolk county, were dead.

George W. Whitehurst, who said he lived in Portsmouth, declared that R L. Green, recorded as voting at Hall's Corner, did not live there.

"Where does he live?" asked Chairman McIntyre, of the committee.

"About two years ago," repied the witness, "they buried him near Smith's Creek."

An investigation of the registration books showed that Green's poll taxes are paid up to date.

The Colorado stood lowest in the list. The Breble won the destroyer trophy.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 29.—The conference on hookworm disease held under the auspices of the Rockefeller Sanitary Commission, adjourned today after hearing further reports from Southern States on the progress of work for eradication of the disease and being addressed by Dr. George W. NO CANDIDATES AS YET SELECTED

Democratic Hosts of New York State Assemble in Rochester.

CHAS. F. MURPHY IN CONTEST

Conferences Lasted Far Into This Morning—Judge Parker Delivers Keynote Speech—Absolutely Nothing S ttled.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 29.—The final conference to decide what candidates' names shall be laid before the Democratic State Convention, tomorrow, began at midnight, in the rooms of Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall. The two hours before this Mr. Murphy had spent in Tammany headquarters at the Whitcomb House "taking evidence."

One after the other he received the candidates still in the field, or their representatives and heard their claims. When he left the Whitcomb and went to his rooms at the Hotel Seneca, he was accompanied by Daniel J. Cohalan, J. Sargent Cram and National Committeeman Norman E. Mack.

John B. Stanchfield came from the conference shortly after 2 o'clock this morning and said: "I pledge you my word that absolutely nothing was settled."

Justice Morgan J. O'Brien, who also attended the conference said:

"There was a general discussion of candidates. No less than a dozen or fourteen names were mentioned, but the conference selected no one and decided to meet again at 11 o'clock this morning when they hope to agree upon a list of candidates before the convention convenes."

Chairman Dix made practically the same statement.

The first session of the Democratic convention today was a brief intermission in the serious business that has brought together here the delegates of the 61 counties of New York State. This business was the selection of a candidate for the head of the ticket, and it promised to keep the leaders out of bed nearly all night. The convention came to order at 1:07 P. M., perfected a temporary organization, listened to a bitter arraignment by the temporary chairman, Alton B. Parker, of the Republican administration in general, and the political ascendency of Theodore Roosevelt at Saratoga, in particular, and then adjourned to wait on the judgment of the leaders. Tomorrow at 1 o'clock the convention will meet again in the hope of agreeing on a candidate selected in the meantime.

Directly or indirectly, all questions of availability and fitness come ultimately before the triumvirate of which Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall is the dominating personality; Daniel Cohalan, the mouthpiece and J. Sargeant Cram, the adviser in chief.

It is the admission of Norman E. Mack, chairman of the National Democratic convention that Murphy controls the situation. Out of 450 delegates he controls, with Kings county, led by John H. McCooey, of Brooklyn, and Erie, led by William Fitzpatrick, of Buffalo, more than 200. Up-State leaders recognized tonight the hopelessness of effecting any coalition strong enough to oppose him with any show of success.

The problem that Mr. Murphy faces is one that needs all his caution, experience and judgment. He must find a candidate who will be strong enough to run at least an even race with Henry L. Stimson, backed by Theodore Roosevelt; who will command the support of Democrats of all shades of opinion; and who can win over the support of William Randolph Hearst. The leaders all feel that with Mayor Gaynor eliminated from consideration as a candidate, Mr. Hearst becomes at once a factor with whom to reckon. The editorial utterances of his morning newspaper today was interpreted here to mean that he is holding himself uncommitted. Undoubtedly there will be a strong effort made to win his co-operation.

Important meetings that may last until long after midnight are on the committees of resolutions and permanent organization. There was a parade in which Charles F. Murphy and other Tammany braves marched at the head of the camp followers. All these things took time, and when conferences began late tonight, it seemed more than possible that the slate would not be written until tomorrow morning.

The candidates themselves are puzzled and tired. Representative William Sulzer says that he is losing no strength. Representatives James S. Havens is still sure that he cannot lose. His managers said tonight that he would enter the convention tomorrow with the delegates to elect him safely pledged. Edward M. Shepard said everything he had heard today continued to encourage him.

But laying aside all speculation the situation in short comes back to this—What will Murphy do?

It was generally believed that he would try his best to make good his promise of conciliating up-State sentiment but that if he found it impossible to consolidate that sentiment he would jam through his own preference.

In the event a man from New York

HUDSON STEAMERS SOLD.

Purchased by Norfolk Banker at Auction Yesterday for $75,000.

New York, Sept. 29—The two Hudson river steamers Frank Jones and Saratoga, the property of the New York and Albany Transportation Company, were sold at auction today under orders of the federal courts for $75,000, the purchaser being Richard B. Fentress, a banker of Norfolk, Va.

Today's sale nominally ended a long litigation involving the New York and Albany Transportation Company, although formal notice was given at the sale that the purchaser at a previous sale held on July 27, 1909, would appeal from the finding of the United States district court in ordering a re-sale of the boats.

The new purchaser admitted to holding some of the old bonds of the corporation and was thought to have acted in the interest of the old bondholders. He insisted, however, that he had bought the two steamboats on his own account and was undecided whether to take them South or leave them in the Hudson river for next season's service.

ACCEPTED TIME IS THE PRESENT

Contest Has Really Only Started With Special Offer Which is Now in Progress.

THE STANDING ON SUNDAY

Owing to illness of the bookkeeper in the Contest Department of the Star, it was found impossible to publish the list of the names and the vote of each contestant today. However, a complete list will appear in Sunday's issue with the number of votes each contestant has to her credit up to this evening therefore it is important that all who have votes to their credit should send them in this morning in order that they may appear in the count.

Now is the time to secure subscriptions. Never again will subscriptions count for as many votes as they do right now, and until the 8th of October. Every club of $30 in new subscriptions, means 35,000 extra votes to the contestant and it will certainly be an easy matter for every contestant to secure extra votes on this offer.

These $30 subscriptions must not necessarily be turned into the office at one time, but a contestant may turn in one subscription at a time or in any manner to suit his or her convenience, and as soon as they have received $30 in subscriptions to their credit they will have the extra coupon for 35000 votes.

Never again will an offer like this be put on in connection with the popular contest, and now is the time for every contestant who wants to win a prize, to exert every effort to secure a large number of reserve votes

If a contstant has a subscription and desires to hold the votes back so that they will not appear in the paper, they may hand the subscriptions into the contest department at any time it suits their convenience, and receive a coupon calling for the number of votes to which they are entitled. They may hold this coupon out until the last day of the contest if they so desire, and until it is returned to this office, the votes will not appear in the paper. This enables the contestants to have the paper started to the subscribers immediately, and still not show anyone their strength in the contest.

The contest is really just beginning this week, as last Monday was the opening day of the special offer, and any others who are contemplating entering should do so now, and have the same advantage as the ones already entered. Those who do not care for their names to appear in the list should notify the Contest Department.

This extra vote offer has been put on in order to give the contestants who are in the contest now, the advantage over any others who may decide to enter later on.

Contestants are not confined to secure just one club, but as soon as one club of $30 in subscriptions has been sent in, they should start on another club and secure two or more if possible.

DR. LUCAS ENDORSED.

Capt. Paddison Writes of His Qualifications for Legislature.

Point Caswell, N. C., Sept. 28th.

Editor Star:—I notice in your issue of today that Dr. Lucas will be a candidate for the Legislature from this county. I fully indorse all the nice things you said about him. This is a critical period in the history of Pender county. What she needs most is a bond issue for public improvements of $100,000 and a good strong stock law to protect our forest lands from the miserable razor back hogs and roaming cattle, both of which Dr. Lucas stands for, and if he is elected we will get. This will put Pender county in the front rank of the progressive counties of the State. A good stock law will enhance the value of the farm lands more than a million dollars within the next thirty years.

Donaldson Cadets at Fayetteville Begin Football Organization.

Fayetteville, N. C., Sept. 29.—The Donaldson cadets have begun the organization of their football team by electing Norman McNeill captain. This is McNeill's third year on the Donaldson team, and he will make the cadets an excellent leader. Last year he played tackle and half on the team.

Yesterday afternoon the squad was out for its first real work. Among the old players who reported were Jones, Glover, Stowe and McFall. There are several other members of last year's team in school and some good material among the new cadets. The team is being coached by Prof. McFall. The first game will be played with Wilmington.

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 29.—Today's session of the National Insurance Commissioners was executive and what business was transacted was of private nature. A number of the commissioners and all of the fraternal delegates to the convention left the city today, many going to New Orleans on a sight-seeing expedition. Among the officers elected was Joseph A. Button, Richmond, Va. president. Milwaukee was chosen as the next meeting place.

TRIAL OF HASKELL ENDS.

Unable to Make Out Case Against Governor of Oklahoma.

McAlestern, Okla., Sept. 29.—The trial of Governor Haskell, of Oklahoma, in the Muskogee town lots cases came to a sudden end today when the government announced that under the restrictions laid down by the court, it would be unable to make out a case against Haskell or of any of his co-defendants.

Gov. Haskell and three other defendants were charged in an indictment returned by a Federal grand jury with "conspiracy to defraud the government" in the disposal of town lot sites at Muskogee, Okla. The dismissal of all of the cases today was attributed by the government attorneys of their inability to confine their proof to the period of limitation as fixed by Federal Judge John A. Marshall.

Judge Marshall ruled that under a recent Circuit Court of Appeals decision the prosecution would have to prove conscious participation by Haskell with the other defendants during the three years prior to the return of the indictment, which was in May, 1909.

S. R. Rush, special assistant to the Attorney General, said as the alleged conspiracy had taken place in 1902 much of the evidence secured by the government related to acts committeed before the statute of limitation as fixed by the court. The government, therefore, asked that the case be noll prossed.

Judge Marshall said that the Circuit Court of Appeals decision under which he was bound to rule, was in some points at variance with his own views, but he had no alternative.

Governor Haskell said he was confident he would be eliminated from the case.

Vessels From Southern Ports Are No Longer Inspected in New York.

New York, Sept. 29.—The New York harbor quarantine on vessels from Southern ports, annually put into effect on May 1st and continued through the Summer when danger of the spreading of the fever contagion is greatest will be discontinued on October 1st. Notice to this effect was given by Health Officer Doty. The date for the discontinuance of a month earlier than has been the rule for years past, the general absence of contagious disease epidemics in the Southern territory justifying the selection of the earlier date in the opinion of the health officer.

IN PROSPEROUS COLUMBUS

Diversity of County's Products Wonderful—Mr. Meares to Speak—Morning Star Contest—Schools to Open.

(Special Star Corespondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Sept. 29.—The scuppernong war quieted down somewhat yesterday and grapes sold for $1.25 per bushel. Columbus is certainly a wonderful county, and no other section can produce such a number of money crops in a year. First comes strawberries, then tobacco, then grapes followed by cotton, and af all these crops, cotton at even 15 cents per pound is the least profitable.

Next Monday will be a great day in Whiteville. Mr. Iredell Meares will open his campaign here, and attract the Republican conorts. Then a great good roads meeting will be held in the interest of the Charlotte-Wilmington highway, and it is intended to organize to begin work without delay. Some property is also to be sold. It is expected that an unusually large crowd will be in Whiteville.

On October 12th, the Burkhead property, embracing four acres on Madison avenue, the Main street between the court house and Vineland, will be cut up into lots and sold at auction. This is the first step toward greater Whiteville. The work of paving the streets will soon start.

If the Morning Star contest creates as much interest in other counties as it does in Columbus, the subscriptions of your paper will be largely increased. A number of our nicest young ladies are contestants and they are all working like beavers. One said yesterday that she had the promise of five new yearly subscribers for the Star, and did not intend to stop until she had at least 25, as she was determined to win one of the prizes.

A number of travelling men are now stopping off at Whiteville, and merchants are greatly encouraged over the business outlook. Farmers have more cash than ever before known, and the cotton crop will be almost clear profit.

The Whiteville High School has taken in hand the Lyceum course and a number of fine entertainments have been secured. It is intended to devote the proceeds toward improving the school and adding a library. Dr. W. H. Crowell, chairman of the Board of Trustees, is one of the most indefatigable worker and is laboring hard to build up one of the finest schools in the State in Whiteville. They want to add a large dormitory, for boarding pupils.

HOOKWORM IN BLADEN.

What Has Been Accomplished by Dr. N. P. Liles—Lecture.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Elizabethtown, N. C., Sept. 29.—That Bladen is elligible to the hookworm class has been fully demonstrated by Dr. N. P. Liles, who has been making a study of the disease here for several months. Dr. Liles is not a graduate, but has been practicing here under Dr. Robinson and he has won for himself quite a reputation. His friends will regret to see him leave. He goes the first of October to complete his study at the University of Virginia.

Dr. Liles has had 38 tests made by the State Laboratory of Hygiene and only two failed to show positive infection and his treatment of them has been satisfactory except a few that required the second treatment. So great interest is being manifested in the vicinity, Dr. Liles was invited to lecture on the hookworm a few days ago under the auspices of the W. O. W., and the Farmers' Union at Dublin, N. C.

He exhibited two patients, two little brothefs, and though only two weeks had passed since treatment it was plainly apparent that a great benefit had been done. Only recently he circulated lots of circulars sent him by the State Board, and he says the people are coming to him most every day for the treatment. So popular is the disease that one rarely ever hears of appendicitis nowadays.

FAVOR COMMISSION PLAN.

Mass-Meeting of Greensboro Citizens Inspect New Charter.

(Special to Charlotte Observer.)

Greensboro, Sept. 28.—The final and most interesting sections of the new charter providing for a commission form of government, were disposed of by a well attended mass-meeting at the court house last night. The section which produced the greatest amount of debate was that providing regulation of rates for public service corporations. It was finally decided that where the board of commissioners and the public service company could not agree on the rates the facts should be cited to the State Corporation Commission which should be given power to decide. It was decided to have three commissioners, one of whom shall be the mayor, and it was agreed that the city should have the charter printed in pamphlet form and distributed to those citizens interested, also that after its pasage by the Legislature the citizens shall finally vote upon its adoption. There has been no antagonism to the commission form of government, the only differences of opinion being as to the nature of certain details.

Millions know its matchless merit for stubborn colds, obstinate coughs, sore lungs, lagrippe, asthma, hemorrhage, croup, whooping cough, or hay fever. It relieves quickly and never fails to satisfy. ATTEMPTED JAIL DELIVERY

Assistant Jailer Set Upon in Raleigh. Young Dixon Commissioned to Succeed His Father—Democratic Headquarters.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 29.—O. O. Green, assistant jailer, was set upon by a number of prisoners early this morning, the jail keys taken from him and he was locked in a cell while the prisoners hurriedly worked their way through various doors only to be held up at the outer door by Chief of Police Stell, who lives nearby and sprang from his bed, ran barefooted and in his night clothes, revolver in hand, to the aid of the jailer whose shouts for help he heard.

The leader of the attempted delivery was Acy Bunn, a notorious negro criminal who only yesterday was given a two years' sentence in Wake court for robbing the cash register of Julius Heller's shoe store here in the broad-open daylight. Bunn had hidden behind a bath tub and blanket that hung above it when the jailor entered the corridor thinking that all the men were in their cells. As he went to get some extra pans in which to serve breakfast to the prisoners Bunn sprang upon him from behind and some of the others came out to help in chucking the jailor into a cell and getting the keys. Then they began their work of assorting the keys to get out and had succeeded all the way to the outer door when the chief of police, who was for a number of years a deputy sheriff and assistant jailer, appeared and forced the prisoners back into their places at the point of his gun. It is probable that Judge Cooke will, before the court adjourns, increase the sentence of Bunn in consequence of his conduct this morning. At least the judge is to be asked to do this.

Governor Kitchin commissions Ben F. Dixon, Jr., State Auditor, to succeed his lamented father, Major B. F. Dixon. Col. Alex. J. Field, private secretary to the Governor, gave out the following statement tonight:

"In appointment to fill vacancy in the office of State Auditor, caused by the death of the late Dr. B. F. Dixon, the Governor's original purpose was to wait for the State Democratic Executive Committee to nominate a candidate and then appoint that candidate to fill the vacancy. Upon further consideration he realized that delay, even for a short time in filling the office, would embarrass the State's business, especially at the beginning of a month, since the State Treasurer cannot pay out any money except upon the warrant of the auditor. He has, therefore, decided to forthwith appoint Ben F. Dixon, Jr., who is not a candidate for nomination, to fill the vacancy until a State Auditor elected at the approaching November election can qualify."

The new State Auditor is a graduate of Trinity College, Class of 1903, and took the degree of M. A. and LL. D. at Columbia University in 1906. He has been practicing law in Raleigh since last December.

Some lively campaigning has been going on in the State for the Executive Committee nomination for the office. Prominent candidates and men whose friends are urging them for the place on the State ticket are Major E. J. Hale Fayetteville; Capt. S. A. Ashe, Raleigh; Mr. Abbott, Greensboro, now auditor for the city of Greensboro; Capt. W. T. R. Bell, Rutherfordton; Leo D. Heart, Raleigh; Brown Pegram, retiring treasurer of Wake county; J. J. Bernard, retiring Register of Deeds of Wake county.

The Carolina Automobile Co., Charlotte, changes its name to the Rambler Automobile Co. O. A. Robbins is president. The Freeman Drug Co., is chartered with $5,000 capital for a drug business at Burlington. A. F. Barnett being the principal incorporator. Other charters issued are: Siler City Milling Co., capital $25,000 by J. M. Stout and others for grain milling and cotton ginning business; The Eno Hunting Club, (Inc.), Durham, W. T. Pollard and others, for social purposes, no capital. The Peter's Creek Union Milling Co., of Smith, Stokes county, capital $10,000 by W. M. Overby and others, for milling grain.

Editor R. F. Beasley, of the Monroe Journal who is to assume the position of editor and dispenser of campaign literature and news for the State Democratic Headquarters here, spent today in Raleigh conferring with the State Chairman and will return here October 5th, to take up his work. He is confident of increased majorities for Democracy in the November elections.

The State Department of Insurance is notified of the conviction of Jim Echols on the charge of setting fire to the town prison at Lumberton. He was prosecuted by the Department of Insurance and this makes the 121st conviction for arson the Department has secured since it was established eight years ago.

Gen. B. S. Royster, of Oxford; Lieut. Col. P. J. Macon, Warrenton; Major W. C. Rodman, Washington, and Major L. W. Young, Asheville, are commissioned by Governor Kitchin, and will start at once to St. Louis as delegates from the North Carolina Nation Guard to the National Guard Association to be in session there October 3rd to 6th.

ROBERT R. BELLAMY.

THE WILMINGTON PRESS.

A Certain Index to the Progress of That Fine City.

Whiteville News Reporter.

You can always tell the prosperity of any town or city by its newspapers. When a town is down with the dry rot, the press show the ill effects, and drag out a miserable, hand-to-mouth existence. But when you see the newspapers of a place expanding, increasing their plants and moving into larger quarters, it is a dead sure sign that said town has a double shuffle hustle on. And this is just what you now see in Wilmington.

For many years that city was looked upon as a grave-yard for newspapers, and laces with half the population supported its press better. Several years ago we asked a gentleman in Spartanburg, who was engaged in the cotton business in Wilmington, what kind of place it was. He repied, "Well, Gantt, Wilmington is a great, big, over-grown dead town."

But within the last twelve months we never saw newspapers come out like the Morning Star and Evening Dispatch have done. There is no place in the South, with the population of Wilmington, that can now show two more creditable daily papers. The Star has expanded in every direction, and is now looked upon as one of the leading papers of the South. And the Dispatch is right along side its morning contemporary. The enterprising proprietor of that fine afternoon daily has recently built and moved into a fine new up-to-date office building, and greatly improved his paper.

We congratulate Wilmington on the growth and prosperity of its press, for it is a certain pointer to the upbuilding of that city. We never knew papers to come out so, and we have watched such matters for lo, these many years. The get-up and-git of the daily press of Wilmington tells the world that the city is moving to the front and a great future is now breaking on the place.

We lift our hat to the Star and Dispatch, and give three cheers and a tiger for Greater Wilmington.

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

The genuine has on its outside wrapper the Signature R. V. Pierce M.D.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

Friday, September 30, 1910.

Probably what Senator Gore said about his party in Texas way back yonder was his opinion when he didn't know as much as he knows now.

The United States Treasury announces that "there will be no shortage of money in the United States this Fall.' In order to keep the treasurer form being a prevaricator so far as we are concerned, bring us some money and save his reputation.

The cigarette smoker, he pays the revenue tax, and if he doesn't believe it let him look in his pack of cigarettes and see if the manufacturers are not giving him fewer "coffin tacks" for his money. The consumer goes right on getting consumed.

A Boston man turned to gaze at a lady wearing a hobble skirt. Continuing to go forward while looking backward he fell over an embankment and broke his leg. Of course, he blames the hobble skirt but ladies will wonder where the rubber-neck comes in

Remarks the Salisbury Post: "The safe of a Georgia editor was burglarized and $12.00 stolen." This shows that the editor had money on hand but we are prepared to believe the burglar would have goten more if the editor hadn't made a recent payment on his automobile.

The New York Old Guard William Barnes, Jr., and others, have announced that they will stick to the party under Roosevelt's bossism. They are professional politicians and that subserviency is expected of a class of men who are in politics for plunder and not patriotism nor principle..

A socialist is being sued by his wife because of non-support. It seems that he is a millionaire and didn't believe in the socialistic doctrine to the extent of an equal distribution of wealth with his beter half. A man who has as much money as he has could afford not to be a socialist.

Roosevelt's New York platform is not progressive in the right direction. It is mainly standpat and so largely froth that it covers up the real issue through which consumers hope to secure relief. It has a progressive label but the contents are gilded playthings for protectionists.

In Pennsylvania a negro who stole a banana was sent to the penitentiary for two years. Grafters who came very nearly stealing Pennsylvania's $10,000000 State House while it was being built, go unwhipped of justice. Evidently there is a strong sentiment in Pennsylvania for punishment of a thief so common that he would swipe a banana while Coutn de Banan was n't looking.

Elijah Crockett, an aged Charlotte negro charged with a crime which would have sent him to the penitentiary for 20 years, could not employ a lawyer to defend him. In desperate straits he decided to defend himself, so, lawyer like, he examined the witnesses waded out before the jury and entertained them some. Col. Jake Newell was the attorney for the prosecution, but the jury, probably considering that circumstance as favorable to the defendant, "turned the darkey loose." The dusky spectators grinned, but colored individuals generally should not imitate the old Charlotte darkey with the expectation of saving themselves. The Charlotte jury may have been well acquainted with Uncle Elijah, and besides an acquittal might have been considered proper pay for an exhilerating spectacle.

TEDDY'S CAPTURE.

The egotistic and inconsistent Roosevelt is complete master of Republicanism in New York. He has waded in and captured the complete organization while the Taft influence has been an unknown quantity throughout the proceedings which culminated in the action of the State Republican Convention at Saratoga on Tuesday and Wednesday. It doesn't take even an intelligent person to observe what an exceedingly small amount of ice was cut by the Taft Administration and its friends at that Convention. His friends of the "Old Guard" were snowed under at every turn and thus Taft permitted the fate of the Republican party in New York to fall into the hands of the man with the Big Stick.

The whole truth is, Taft sat supinely at Oyster Bay and allowed Roosevelt to run amuck and not only dominate New York Republicanism, but to take over into his own hands the very fate of Taft. Roosevelt's capture of the convention and the party organization for the next two years placed it absolutely in the power of Roosevelt to say whether the convention would or should endorse Taft's administration during the past 18 months or it made it possible for him to dictate the maner of endorsement that he desired the convention to make. Taft's own prospects for renomination in 1912 therefore are held in the hollow of the hand of Roosevelt, and Taft took no steps of a vigorous or determined nature to prevent it or else trusted it to the impotent party bosses who were justly and righteously repudiated by the convention.

Notwithstanding all this, President Taft announces that he is "pleased" with what the convention did. Indeed, it seems that everything pleases Taft. He is on record as being satisfied with everything good or bad that is done. Apparently he is so easy to please that he would eat raw doughnuts and pronounce them fine—the best ever, equal in superiority to the Aldrich-Payne tariff bill which he swallowed and has not yet been able to digest. Taft either is no politician, is extremely politic, or lacks backbone and prefers to run away from a fight. He has had the finest opportunity any man ever had to show that he is made out of the real stuff but he tamely let it slip.

In more than one instance Taft could have shown his hand, called the bluff and been all the stronger, but he didn't. He could have beaten Roosevelt at his own game and secured his own renomination without placing himself under obligations to Theodore Roosevelt, but he didn't. Now he has to endorse everything that Roosevelt does and will have to depend upon him for a renomination unless Roosevelt wants it himself. He is completely at the mercy of the Big Stick. He secured his nomination for President because it was in Roosevelt's power to select his successor, and with all that power latterly his own, to secure his own renomination, President Taft actually has allowed Roosevelt, on the outside of the White House, to insidiously place himself in a position to generously give Taft a renomination or sent him adrift, just as it suits the Big Boss. If it is all the result of a real understanding between Roosevelt and Taft it would indicate in the President a political cunning that is not suspected, but if the situation has resulted because Taft couldn't help himself it has been the result of Taft's amiability or weakness—which?

Roosevelt's triumph in having himself made temporary chairman of the Saratoga convention on Tuesday, was followed up on Wednesday by his dictation of the platform and the nominee for Governor in the person of former United States District Attorney Harry L. Stimson of New York City, who was placed in nomination by the Rough Rider boss himself. That may be nothing against Mr. Stimson himself, however able and fit a gubernatorial candidate he may be, but it shows the utterness of the Roosevelt political dictatorship. That is not all. The Rough Rider dictated the platform and it is peculiarly Rooseveltian. It contains his platitudes expressed in buncombistic epigrams. Having it within his power to have the convention fully and completely endorse the administration of Taft and logically endorse him for the renomination in 1912, Dictator Roosevelt saw fit to briefly, as alleged, "enthusiastically endorse the progressive and statesmanlike leadership of William Howard Taft and declare our pride in the achievements of his first 18 months as President of the United States."

Take notice that Roosevelt wouldn't go any further than limiting the endorsement to 18 months. Also take notice that any mention of 1912 was studiously avoided. There could be but two reasons for that. One is that an endorsement of Taft for the renomination would have made Taft an issue in this campaign, which may not have been desirable or politically wise at this time.

The other reason is that Roosevelt prevented endorsement so the field could be left open if he should take a notion to secure the nomination for himself. The fact is there is no reason why any ordinary Republican convention should not have endorsed Taft for the renomination. It is customary to allow a President two terms and if Taft's administration is worthy of endorsement practically for two years of his term there could have been no reason why the New York convention should not have endorsed him for renomination like other State conventions already have done. Therefore, the only reason why the New York convention was not permitted to even hint an endorsement of Taft in 1912 is Roosevelt's own reason.

The New York platform caters to a sentiment that is widespread and militant in this country. It but follows the trend of an insistent public demand and by no means leads in propositions of reforms that the people have risen in their own might to demand in their own interest from a dominant party which has existed through and for special iterests and under whose administrations conditions requiring reforms have been created. The Roosevelt platform takes the crest of a wave that was already rolling high before he saw the opportunity to get in the game.

It is significant that Big Boss Roosevelt called in as his first lieutenant, in dominating New York Republicanism and promulgating reforms, former United States Senator Elihu Root, who has been the attorney for more trusts than any lawyer of the American bar. It was Root and John E. Parsons, another reformer, who drew the deed for the Sugar Trust some years ago. No doubt the voters in New York will take notice that it is impossible for the Republican party to get away from itself and men of the Root type. The Roosevelt convention endorsed the Aldrich tariff and that was the worst thing it did against real reform.

ADVERTISING THE SOUTH.

Few people in the South but faintly realize its immense resources and possibilities. Those who do recognize the splendid opportunities in the Southern States, and especially in North Carolina, have only a faint conception of the vast development of which this section is capable along a hundred lines, industrially and agriculturally. In fact, we do not know our own country ourselves, and those who do know in a certain way do not think it is of sufficient importance to let the world know that we have unlimited opportunities in North Carolina. We might say that certainly people abroad do not know, and probably our indisposition to let them know is based on the asumption that they ought to know as much about it as we do.

There are thousands upon top of thousands of people in the United States who are perfectly ignorant of the resources of North Carolina and the scores of opportunities here for capital, labor, homeseekers and investors. Publicity is the only means by which we posibly can let it be known to the world what are the attractions in this State, with its resources and and advantages outnumbering those of any other State in the Union. Some people do not realize this, and while many do realize it they do nothing to attract people and capital to the various sections of the State.

There are different kinds of publicity and one of them is now being utilized by the Southern Railway for the benefit of the sections and States penetrated by its lines. The Southern Railway Company has arranged to display products portraying Southern resources and opportunities and is to hold these exhibitions in various Northern cities under the auspices of that railroad's Land and Industrial Department. One of these exhibitions is to be a distinct feature of the "National Land and Irrigation Exposition" to be held at Duquesne Garden, Pittsburg, on October 17 to October 29. There are to be exhibits of agricultural products in great variety and attractive printed matter containing a wide scope of information is to be distributed to the thousands of people who are expecting to attend the exposition.

The exposition is backed by two Pittsburg daily papers and they announce that it will be the most comprehensive show of its kind ever held in this country. It is announced that the Southern is making an exhibit at Pittsburg because the "back to the farm" movement has taken root in the densely populated district around Pittsburg where farmers are being driven out of their fields by the encrouchments of mines, oil wells and factories of various kinds.

Pittsburg is a city of 565,000 population and within a radius of 40 miles it is estimated that there are 2,500,000 people. It is to reach these people that the Southern Railway will make an exhibit and it has gone to them with the goods instead of inviting them to come to its territory. The show has been extensively advertised throughout Pennsylvania and the railroads have given such reduced rates as will be sure to attract thousands of visitors to the show.

The Southern Railway is doing an effective and vigorous work towards settling people along its lines. Its Land and Industrial Department is admirably equipped to make a comprehensive exhibit showing the opportunities that await the settler along its lines in the southeast. Mr. M. V. Richards, land and industrial agent for the Southern, will be in charge of the exhibit and it is his purpose to make the very best possible display, feeling that through the Pittsburg show he will reach just the people whom the South wishes to attract. The Pittsburg "National and Irrigation Exposition," popularly known as "Pittsburg's Big Land Show," has its offices in the Keystone Building, Pittsburg, and in addition to the exhibit by the Southern Railway, the exposition company is endeavoring to secure a number of exhibits from chambers of commerce, boards of trade and other organizations in the South, interested in the development of this section.

It is a fortunate chamber of commerce or board of trade that has anything to exhibit, but it is not too late for us to take the hint that, where it is possible, such organizations in the South should have their own permanent exhibits at home so they can move on a broader field for exhibition when they are invited to do so on such occasions as that at Pittsburg in October. It is a pity that the whole of eastern North Carolina is not prepared to make a good showing at Pittsburg.

Cotton is late this year but no doubt the prices will keep.

When the next Congress meets Uncle Joe may be the only relict of by-gone days to be seen in the House.

"Every tub must stand on its own bottom." If it doesn't Roosevelt will kick its hoops off and tell it something it should have known before.

If a renomination for President in 1912 keeps on geting harder to secure, President Taft may decide that he doesn't care very much about it anyway.

Probably Morehead and Butler wouldn't be willing to explain to us that "local self-government" means a certain kind of "ward politics" as well as "local option."

Lawyers are paid to disagree but when Democratic voters in North Carolina disagree they have to take what is coming to them from Marion Butler's Pandora box.

The best reason why every white North Carolinian should vote against the Republican party is what that party has done to North Carolina eveery time it got in power. Ain't it so white folks?

A contemporary remarks: "The Sultan of Sulu gets credit for having 14 wives!" Well, at present high prices, we don't see how in the name of goodness he can take care of that bunch unless he did get credit.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Durham Democrats are moving to make General Carr speaker of the House. Second the motion. He is not only entitled to the honor, but he will make a most capable officer.—Greensboro Record.

Maine is not going to the dogs. We see by the columns of the Maine Farmer that the agricultural element is interested mainly in the same things as before the pesky Democrats were voted into power.—Boston Herald.

A Republican writing to the Raleigh Times wants to know what warrant the Democratic papers have for saythat Butler is interested in the collection of those fradulent bonds. The Times tells him in no uncertain way towit: by quoting Butler's sworn testimony in a hearing in an investigation. This ought to hold the gentleman. Everybody that has merely glanced at the matter knows Butler's object, primarily, is to colect these bonds and no man knows better than he that they are fradulent.—Greensboro Record.

The little Radical spielers are running about the State denouncing the Democratic Party in one breath for spending too much money and in the next breath denouncing it because it does not spend enough! That's Radical inconsistency. It abuses the Democratic party for spending too much on schools and then promises if it wins to spend more. It is easy to make promises, but voters remember that when the Republicans were in powef their legislators stole the school fund to pay their extravagant per diem.—Raleigh News and Observer.

At Moundville, W. Va., the pupils of a negro school were dismissed before closing hours of the school, in order that they might see moving pictures of the fisticuff at Reno, in which Johnson defeated Jeffries. The principal of the school explains that his object was not to have the children exult over the negro's victory at the expense of the white man, but to impress upon them what members of their race may accomplish through the exercise of perseverence, skill and pluck.

The story suggests opportunities to makers of moving picture films to be found in South Carolina among negro youths who display expert skill in picking cotton. Sometimes a negro girl or boy may pick as much as 300 pounds in a day, and that is an achievement in every way more worthy than was the deed of Jack Johnson. Besides, the cotton field will offer, by far, a prettier picture than will any scene in Reno, Nevada. If the teachers of negro schools in the Northern States are resolved to have picture that will inspire their pupils in ambitious endeavor, it is certain that cotton picking films would prove immensely popular.—Columbia State.

The New York bankers are boasting that they have plenty of money to take care of the Southern coton crop, without being required to call in the aid of foreign capital. There is no doubt about the fact that they have the money and there is no doubt about the further fact that they have planned to make big profits on it by requiring stiff rates for its loan to the Southern banks. It is probable that that they will not find this such an easy proposition, for the Southern bankers have some money of their own in addition to resources outside of New York. In the course of an article on the attitude of the New York bankers, The Journal of Commerce says that "according to information received from the South, it is evident that the powerful banking combination in New York, when it comes to financing bankers in that section are not going to allow themselves to be squeezed by the cotton crop. They have, it is understood, already enlisted the support of French capitalists: and under these circumstances the Southern banks will not be under the complete domination of New York financiers. Private advices received here by cotton men state that the local bankers do not propose to stand for being squeezed by the Eastern institutions. Should the New York banks demand high rates of interest funds will probably be forcoming from other sources." The Southern bankers will be, no doubt, able to command the situation.—Charlotte Chronicle.

BIG OPENING AT REHDER'S

Popular Department Store Crowded Yesterday With an Admiring Throng—Beautiful Display of Hats.

"Oh, Mr. Rehder, this is the finest display I have yet seen. It is simply lovely, beautiful, magnificent—surpassing the display of hats ever before seen here!"

Such were the exclamations of enthusiastic admiration to Mr. Rehder, of J. H. Rehder & Co's, big department store, on North Fourth street, by delighted ladies every time he entered the millinery department yesterday, and that was frequently. The occasion was the annual Fall opening of the large and popular department store, and while the greatest interest centered in the millinery display the other departments were also visited and inspected. The opening will continue through today and it is expected that the store will again be crowded from early in the morning until 7 o'clock this evening, the closing hour.

The millinery department was artistically and beautifully decorated with ferns, palms, Southern smilax and white and pink crepe paper—carrying out the color scheme of pink and white most admirably. The decorations blended most harmoniously and perfectly with the wealth of the latest creations that Dame Fashion has decreed shall be used as headgear this season. Miss Sarah Gardner, who has been with the firm for eleven seasons, is again in charge of the millinery department and her wide experience is abundantly shown in the scope and variety of her selection. In prices the hats are equal to the demands of all customers from the one of exclusive taste to the one of modest requirements. Some of the most beautiful pattern hats in this section may be found here. There are more than 500 of these and each represents a distinctive type or shape. The hats are most attractively arranged and they immediately catch the eye and fancy of the shopper, and a large number of purchases were made yesterday. Shoppers now realize that it is the wise thing to purchase before the leaving the store, the hat they see on display that is especially becoming to them and strikes their fancy, for otherwise it will most likely be the property of some one else within a short time and they will then be forced to take a substitute there being no duplicates.

The Helmet Jean de Arc, very often trimmed with Persian, is one of the leading shapes this season. Beavers and turbans are right much in demand, especially the latter, the new Marie Antoinette or Empress Josephine turbans being very becoming to most people. They are trimmed with silver or gold lace with feather bands. The Watteau, a picture hat, made of black velvet, faced with pink satin, trimmed with willow plumes and lace handeau, is also very popular. The department carries a large assortment of black hats, for both mourning and dress and many sales of these were made yesterday. The plush, in both rough and soft finishes, which comes in all shades, seems to be especially popular this season, judging from the number that were sold yesterday. In a word, the millinery department is complete in every respect and no greater variety of hats can be found elsewhere in Wilmington than are shown right here at this justly popular establishment. Those not bent on buying, but like to look around will gain delight by a visit to this department today. If they leave without making a purchase it won't be because they were not simply charmed with the magnificent display of headgear.

Not only did the ladies of the city turn out en masse for the first day of the opening, but a large number came from neighboring towns in every direction from Wilmington. Some heavy purchases were made by ladies from points many miles distant, almost to Goldsboro in one direction. The trade to this popular store from surrounding towns is ever on the increase aand many are expected to purchase all of their Fall and Winter goods here.

Mr. Rehder ordered a large supply of attractive souvenirs to be given to those in attendance upon the opening, but unfortunately they did not arrive in time to be distributed among those present yesterday. However, they arrived last evening and each visitor to the department today will be given a reminder of the 1910 Fall opening of the store.

While the millinery department was the main feature of the opening the other departments were not neglected by the shoppers. Every department is complete and the goods on display are most attractive. In the dress goods department were shown Persian silks and Beuclay suitings which are having a special run this season, as well as the many other kinds and grades of dress goods. The firm is still has the agency for the celebrated Kirshbaum custom made clothing for men, and the Fall styles were on display. The shoe department is well stocked and the footwear was attractively exhibited. The firm handles the Crawford custom made shoe for men and the well known Dolly Madison shoe for women.

Music is being furnished during the opening which adds greatly to the occasion that fairly delights the hearts of the ladies. The store will remain open today until 7 P. M.

THE STEAMER WILMINGTON.

Goes to Charleston Tomorrow to be Overhauled—Party Going.

To receive a thorough overhauling, the steamer Wilmington, Capt. Joun W. Harper, will leave tomorrow for Charleston, S. C. where she will go on a marine railway for a few days. The steamer will be away from port about five days, arriving at Charleston Sunday morning.

Now that the heavy Summer passenger traffic on the river is over, the steamer has an opportunity to receive the necessary overhauling as required each season. During the absence of the Wilmington the tug Blanche, Capt. Sanders, will make the scheduled daily trips to Southport and return.

A party will go from Wilmington and Southport as the guests of Capt. Harper, to visit a few days in the South Carolina city and those who have "signed-up" for the trip are Miss Kate Stuart, of Southport, Capt. M. T. Craig, Capt. E. H. Adkins, Mr. H. A. Kure, and Constable "Tuck" Savage. In addition to providing accomodations for his guests and the regular crew, in charge of Mate "Bud" Mintz, Capt. Harper stated yesterday that there are still two cots left that can be secured by "desirables." Capt. W. H. Northrop, Jr., the traffic manager, will be the only one of the "steamer force" left to manage affairs while the Wilmington is away.

STEAMER DUPLIN RAISED.

Arrived in Port Yesterday for Repairs. Sunk Last Week.

The river steamer Duplin, Capt. D. J. Stokes, that sunk last week at Broadwater Landing on the Northeast river, has been raised by the Diamond Steamboat & Wrecking Company and arrived in port yesterday under her own steam for repairs.

The steamer was docked at Skinner's marine railway yesterday afternoon. The steamer sunk at a lumber mill, where she was receiving cargo of shingles, and the wrecking company experienced much difficulty in raising her. She was raised the first part of the week, but after she was gotten to the surface some of the fastenings broke and she sank for the second time. The cabin and other parts of the steamer are slightly damaged.

Capt. Stokes says the steamer will be ready to receive freight for the up trip Saturday morning.

The returns which have not all been received, indicate that Messrs. D. J. Corbett, Jr., C. W. Worth and B. F. Keith will be the three commissioners chosen. The work will be done by contract and bids will be invited as soon as the commissioners are announced.

AFTER THE TIGERS AGAIN

Chief of Police Begins Campaign Against Violators of Prohibition Law With Result That Eight Arrests Are Made.

Something akin to a sensation was created last night about 9:45 o'clock, when the police arrested eight persons, seven white and one colored, charged either with violating the State prohibition law or the near-beer ordinance of the City of Wilmington. The wholesale arrests last night came as the result of the employment recently by Chief of Police Williams of two special men for the ferreting out of violations—Mr. Lang Sellers, recently a special health officer, and Mr. D. T. Mayer, a well known painter.

The following are those charged with selling whiskey, location of their places of business, and dates alleged sale to Messrs. Sellers and Mayer: J. J. Farrow, near-beer dealer on Water street; two cases, sales alleged to have been made on September 29th; D. N. Stanly, grocer, at Second and Market, September 29th; W. H. Miller, Seventh and Nixon, September 27th; Will Woebse, Eight and Nixon, September 27th; Jack Watters, Sixth and Castle, September 23rd; Snoden Harris, colored, who conducts a restaurant at Sixth and Campbell streets, September 28th. Warrants charging violation of the near-beer ordinance by selling near-beer without license were served on the following: Chas. Richter, Fourth and Harnett, two bottles, September 27th; W. H. Miller, three bottles, Seventh and Nixon, September 27th; Will Woebse, Eighth and Nixon, three bottles, September 27th; Harry Crain, Tenth and Grace, six bottles, September 28th; J. J. Farrow, Water street, September 29th. As will be noted some of the defendants are charged with both violating the city ordinance and the prohibition law.

News of the arrest spread very rapidly and in a short time there was a large crowd at the City Hall, some being called there to sign bonds for the defendants, all of whom were released on bonds of $200 each for appearance at trial before the Recorder at 11 o'clock this morning. The bondsmen are: For W. H. Miller, Mr. J. A. Westbrook; for Harry Crain, Mr. Ralph Kennedy; for John J. Farrow, John W. Gafford, Esq.; for D. N. Stanly, A. J. Marshall, Esq.; for Chas. Richter, Mr. H. W. Konig; for W. N. Woebse, W. H. Woebse, his father; Snoden Harris, colored, John W. Gafford, Esq.

The warrants against the defendants were sworn out yesterday before Recorder John J. Furlong by members of the police force upon information furnished by the two men employed to run down the "tigers." Last night Chief of Police Williams and Assistant Chief of Police Woolard handed the warrants to Officers D. W. Coleman, W. G. Brinkley, T. M. Hall and J. S. Lane and all were executed about 9:45 o'clock. As all the arrests were made about the same time the patrol wagon could not very well gatner them all in without some delay, at least two of the defendants were taken down in an automobile, while those from the downtown district were "walked" to the hall. The automobile pressed into service was not provided by the officers, however, being furnished by a friend of the defendants. Then an automobile was used by friends of the defendants to bring bondsmen to the City Hall and within an hour all had arranged their bonds and released until 11 o'clock this morning.

The arrests of the defendants is in accordance with plans laid by Chief of Police Williams, with the approval of other officials of the city, some two or three weeks ago, when Messrs. Sellers and Mayer were employed to run down any places where it was thought the law was being violated. They have been on the job for the past two weeks, and as was probably noted, did not confine their operations to any particular locality. Other warrants may be served during the day, but the police would not say that there were any additional cases.

GREGORY NORMAL INSTITUTE.

Opens Monday Morning for the Fall Term.—Announcement.

The Gregory Normal Institute, a well known colored institution at the corner of Seventh and Nun streets, will open Monday, October 3rd, for the Fall term. Prof. Frank B. Stevens, principal, makes the following announcement:

"All deficiency and entrance examinations will be held Monday and Tuesday, and students, both old and new, will be assigned to their respective grades. Especial attention this year will be given to the work of the domestic science, and manual training departments.

"Scientific agriculture and experimental gardening will be emphasized and the work of students carefully noted and graded for special skill and efficiency therein. Government bulletins from experimental stations will be largely used in this work.

"A new department for work in experimental physics and chemistry will be added this year.

"We are looking forward to an unusually large attendance, and an exceptionally good year's work."

His Sister Missing.

A. J. Johnson, a respectable young colored man living at 713 Anderson street, this city, is much distressed at the strange disappearance of his sister, Eliza Johnson, 16 years old, a country girl, who had been visiting him in Wilmington the past two weeks. She was down town with him yesterday on Market between Front and Water streets and left for a moment to walk around the corner with another girl of her acquaintance. She left her companion to return to her brother around the corner and that was the last seen of her up to late yesterday evening. She is described as a little deformed in one side and her brother is anxious for information as to her whereabouts.

NEW PILOT BOAT.

The "Captain Cahill" Placed in Commission and Shows Up Well.

In marine circles yesterday the success which the new "opposition" pilots have had from their inception at Southport, was the subject of much remark, the occasion having been the recent successful launching of the new pilot boat and her first successful cruises, the "opposition" as they have been christened in marine circles having placed pilots in the first four vessels arriving in port.

The courage and endurance exhibited by pilots in the line of their duty is wonderful and competition very often brings out these qualities in the men of the sea to a degree little realized by the landsman. No weather seems to be too bad to forbid their going to board an incoming vessel and one of the first trips made by the new boat was one of the most exciting of the year, according to those from "below" yesterday. The crew of the new boat had notice that a steamer was due to arrive at the bar at a certain time. The Capt. Cahill, which is the name of the new pilot boat, 37 feet long, eight feet beam and three feet draft, with a latest up-to-date 24 H. P. Lamb engine, started from Southport at 10 P. M., to intercept the steamer. The Knox, in charge of the rival crew of pilots, considered the fastest boat on the coast, started immediately after the other craft, both going straight to sea. They held their course for the lightship, 38 miles away, off Frying Pan shoals. For three hours they raced side by side, the Capt. Cahill leading. The Capt. Cahill began to draw away from the Knox and as a light storm came up, she was soon lost sight of. After reaching the Lightship, they changed their sourse east and picked up the steamer at 9. A. M., 35 miles from the Lightship and about 60 miles from Southport.

This is only one incident of the strenuous life of the pilot. The new pilots' crew consists of Capt. J. J. Adkins, one of the oldest pilots on the coast; Capt. Hallie Adkins, who was associated with Capt. John W. Harper for a good many years; Capt. O. D. Burriss, also master of the steamer Wilmington for several years, and Capt. Joe Daniels, a familiar pilot on the river for years, a combination which will no doubt get their share of the business. This company is now fitting out the schooner Frances Elizabeth, one of the fastest pilot boats on the Atlantic coast with a new 40 H. P. Lamb engine at Skinner's marine railway. She will be used for long cruises in bad weather.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Nothing of Consequence Heard in Yesterday's Sitting.

In the Recorder's court yesterday morning Walter Guion and Mosely Brown, colored, were given hearing on the charge of affray, alleged to have occurred last Saturday night. Guion was found not guilty, but Brown was required to pay a fine of $10 and costs. L. Clayton Grant, Esq., appeared for Brown. O. Olsen, a sailor, was taxed with the costs for drunkenness. He had not paid the amount yesterday afternoon and will probably have to go to the roads. Boy Mitchell, colored, who has been before the courts of the county a number of times, was called to answer the charge of stealing a watch from Mr. G. W. Mills at his store Wednesday night, but the hearing was continued until today.

Two Others Been to Roads.

With reference to the statement in yesterday's paper implying that M. L. Winner had been the only white man convicted of selling whiskey in this county and sentenced to the roads since the advent of prohibition, it was stated at the office of the Recorder yesterday that two other white men had been sentenced to the roads, one serving his full time. The statement as published yesterday was that of well known and strong local prohibitionists, who were under the impression that no white man had done service on the roads in this county for selling whiskey. The two persons referred to above saw service for the county some months ago and the fact that they were given road sentences evidently escaped the memory of those quoted at the time. However, in case it becomes necessary to petition the Governor for a pardon for Winner the document will be largely signed, no doubt.

REVIVAL IN BROOKLYN CHURCH.

The revival at Brooklyn Baptist Church is steadily growing in interest. Rev. O. L. Powers preached another powerful sermon last night and several professed faith in Christ, while a number of others expressed a desire to be saved. His theme was "Eternal Life by Believing on Jesus Christ," and this was developed in a most striking and appealing manner. Today the evangelist will preach at 3 P. M., on "The Second Mile." Tonight his theme will be "Excuses." The hour is 8 o'clock. The public is most cordially invited.

MRS. E. B. JORDAN DEAD.

Passed Away at Home of Daughter in Atlanta—Funeral Today.

Many friends in Wilmington and throughout this section of the State will hear with painful sorrow of the death of Mrs. E. B. Jordan, widow of the late E. B. Jordan, who passed away in 1904 and was buried here, having lived in Wilmington for a number of years. Mrs. Jordan passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. F. Hodge, in Atlanta, Ga., on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock having been in poor health and suffering the infirmities of age for several years. She was born in Wayne county Dec. 24th, 1832, and was therefore in the 79th year of her age. She is survived by three daughters and four sons, Mrs. T. E. King, of St. Augustine, Fla., Mrs. Hodge, of Atlanta; Mrs. M. E. Brogden, of Goldsboro; Messrs. Jos. L. Jordan, of Warsaw; T. R. Jordan, of Norfolk; J. M. Jordan, Clinton; and Dr. D. B. Jordan, of Ivanhoe, N. C. There are also surviving two grandchildren of this city, Mr. J. LeRoy Croom and Miss Mabel Croom. All the bereaved ones have the tender sympathy of many friends in the bereavement which has come to them.

The remains of Mrs. Jordan will reach the city on the 12:20 P. M. train today from the South and the funeral will be conducted from the lodge in Oakdale cemetery by Rev. Thos. A. Smoot, pastor of Grace M. E. Church, of which the deceased had been a member for a number of years.

OWNER OF SILVER SPRAY.

Capt. E. I. White Arrived Yesterday to Look After Disabled Vessel.

Capt. E. I. White, owner of the waterlogged schooner Silver Spray, which was picked-up at sea by the tug Blanche and towed into this port last Saturday, arrived yesterday from Machias, Me., to look after the disabled vessel.

Capt. Thomas Calder, master of the schooner, who was taken from the vessel ill and has since been in the Marine Hospital is improving and it is understood that no arrangements will be made until he is able to leave the hospital. Capt. White was undecided yesterday, whether repairs to the vessel would be made here, but stated that the work of discharging the deck load will begin within the next few days.

Until some of the cargo is discharged the extent of damage cannot be determined. The first step of the owner will be a settlement with the tug boat company. The schooner is moored at the wharf of the Hammer Lumber Company across the river from Market and Dock streets.

BIDS FOR NEW FIRE HOSE.

Four representatives of some of the largest fire department supply houses and manufactures in the United States are in the city to appear today before the Police and Fire Commission, which will meet at noon to award a contract for 1,000 feet of new fire hose for the Wilmington department, for which an appropriation was made at the beginning of the new fiscal year. This is the regular biennial purchase of fire hose for the department and this new equipment will bring the department up to its usual high standard. The representatives present have samples of the hose and lively competition is expected to result in the bidding

MISS BESSIE RUSS BRIDE OF MR. ROBERT KYLE TURNER.

Of interest to many friends in this city and elsewhere, was the marriage at 6:15 o'clock, yesterday afternoon, of Miss Bessie Lee Russ, the attractive and popular daughter of Mr. J. S. Russ, and Mr. Robert Kyle Turner, formerly of this city, but now of Roanoke, Va. The ceremony was impressively performed at the home of the bride, on South Second street, by the Rev. Dr. John M. Wells, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. It was a very quiet home affair and there were no attendants. Only members of the immediate family of the bride and a few intimate friends of the couple witnessed the nuptial event. Mr. and Mrs. Turner left on the 7 o'clock train for Roanoke, where they will reside.

Mr. Turner has many friends in this city, where he resided until five or six years ago, when he moved to Roanoke to engage in business. The bride is a charming young lady, whose sweet disposition has won for her a wide circle of admiring friends, who regret that she is to make her home elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Samuel Brittain entertained at an enjoyable reception Thursday evening at their home, No. 110 Church street, in honor of the bride. A large number of the friends of the couple were present and the evening was spent very pleasantly.

MRS. HANNAH L. STORM DEAD.

Passed Away Last Night at Home of Her Son, Dr. W. E. Storm.

Friends of the bereaved family will sympathize with them in the death of Mrs. Hannah L. Storm, relict of the late George E. Storm, who passed away last night at 9 o'clock at the advanced age of 80 years, at the home of her son, Dr. W. E. Storm, No. 316 Ann street, where she had made her home for several years. Mrs. Storm's death was due more to the infirmities of one of her age than to any specific cause and for the past nine months had been practically an invalid. Nevertheless, the announcement of her death was a sad realization for the family and friends. Besides her son, Mrs. Storm is survived by her sister, Mrs. Parker, also of this city.

The funeral will be conducted from the residence at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon by Rev. J. M. Wells, D. D., pastor of the First Presbyterian church, of which she was a devoted member and the interment will be at the old home in Highland, New York, for which place the funeral party will leave immediately after the services at the church.

Reserved Decision Until Today.

Justice Burkheimer heard a rather interesting civil action yesterday afternoon entitled Chas. Carter against John Boyd and David Hilton, all colored. The plaintiff was suing for $29 alleged to be due on a contract. He contends that Hilton gave Boyd a contract to do some work on a house; that the contract was sub-let to him for $78, and that he had received only $49 of the contract price. The defendants admitted that the contract was for $78, but claimed that the plaintiff had been paid $65, and also set up a counterclaim against the plaintiff for $13, the amount it is alleged will be necessary to complete the building in first-class condition. W. P. Mangum Turner, Esq., appeared for the defendants, while B. G. Empie, Esq., represented the plaintiff. Justice Burkheimer reserved his decision until this morning.

FRAUD SECRETS LAID BARE.

Witnesses Tell of Grafting—Swindled Illinois Central.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—A. O. Goodrich, a confessed go-between, and Henry C. Ostermann, formerly president of the Ostermann Manufacturing Company, for the prosecution, vied with each other before Municipal Judge Bruggemeyer today in stripping bare the secrets of the alleged combination which is charged with swindling the Illinois Central Railroad Company by car repair frauds.

Goodrich described in detail methods which he said Illinois Central officers used to conceal their identity as stockholders in the Ostermann repair concern. In testifying yesterday, Ostermann said that certain payments to the railroad officers were made by checks to Goodrich. When placed on the stand today, Goodrich began his testimony at this point.

"The checks were made out in my name," said Goodrich. "Frank B. Harriman, (one of the three defendants in the present case) had asked me some time previously if I would agree to let him have checks made out in my name and accept certain payments for him. I agreed. I do not know what sources the checks came from, but I received a number of them. I know, however, that they were issued by this company, of which I have been reading in the newspapers. I indorsed them and placed them to my private account in the Fort Dearborn National Bank."

Photographs of $35,000 worth of checks, signed by F. H. Niles, president of the Blue Island Car & Equipment Company, were then introduced by Attorney Fisher for the prosecution. Goodrich identified the indorsements on them as having been made by him. Niles went on the stand several days ago and testified that payments for Harrimann were made to Goodrich.

The name of Ira G. Rawn, late president of the Monon Railroad and formerly vice president of the Illinois Central Railroad, was again brought into the proceedings when Goodrich testified that on December 18, 1909, he wrote a check for $10,000 to Ira G. Rawn. The $10,000 check, he said, was in return for two $5,000 checks, which were sent to Goodrich on December 13th, and were signed by Niles.

In connection with the formation of the Memphis Car Repair Company, Osterman told how stock was issued and to whom. Two new names, those of H. H. McCourt, general superintendent of the Illinois Central lines south of the Ohio river and W. S. King, general superintendent of the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley Railroad Company, were mentioned by Ostermann in this connection.

"Stock was issued in certificates of 161 shares each in the Memphis Car Repair Company," said Ostermann. "This stock was divided among Ira G. Rawn, F. B. Harrimann, Joseph B. Buker, W. S. King, H. H. McCourt, William Renshaw, J. M. Taylor and Z. Y. Ward, of the Memphis Company. At the suggestion of Mr. Buker I had all the stock made out in my own name. I know that Rawn, Harrimann and Taylor got their shares, and I suppose the others did too."

The witness then went into a detailed history of the organization of the Memphis Car Repair Company. Later on Ostermann said he was told to issue stock to Mr. Rawn and Mr. Harrimann.

Ostermann then declared that car repair companies paid certain Illinois Central officials a bonus as high as $25 a car for each one sent to them for repairs and made "presents" of varying size to all grades of employes for vigilance in detecting and reporting "bad order" cars. He declares that the amount charged on each car by the repair companies was regulated directly by the Illinois Central officers interested in the alleged grafting.

LETTER FROM MRS. COOK

Entirely Recovered From Illness, and Now Growing Stronger Each Day.

Cave Springs, Ga.,—"I sleep better than ever," writes Mrs. Kate Cook from this place, "and get stronger every day. Before I tried Cardui, the woman's tonic, I was very sick, and the doctor's medicine did me no good. I can never speak too highly of your medicine."

Sleeplessness and nervousness, from which many women suffer, often make living unendurable.

If you are ailing, no need to stay so. Most of the ailments peculiar to women are preventable, curable.

Others have obtained relief by taking Cardui. Why not you?

Cardui is a popular medicine with women. It is popular because it has been found to banish nervousness, relieve pain, bring roses back to pale cheeks, and strength to weak bodies.

Cardui acts specifically on the cause of most female ills, and thus it is a medicine especially useful in women's ailments, in the treatment of which it has a record of over 50 years of success.

At least it can do you no harm, to give Cardui a fair trial.

It may be the very medicine you need.

Theatrical

L. C. Whitney's effervescent "Show Girl" and her thirty-odd merry travelers, will sing and dance their way into the hearts of Wilmington theatregoers at the Academy tonight. It's Arabian Night stories tell of a magic cap which when worn grants the owner's wish. A faint gleam of the amount of fun it causes and the beautiful stage pictures it conjures may be gained by a statement that the cap is sold to the management of a show troupe which has met financial reverses while on an international tour. A wealthy English tourist of the "Winter Home on the Mediterranean" and the "Yacht Lying Outside" order is in search of health, amusement and an ideal, with the assistance of the Magic Cap. "The Show Girl" furnishes the love affair, the comedians work overtime in the fun factory, and the manager allows his imagination to run riot in presenting scenic effects, impressionable songs, dances and musical numbers which naturally are new and unique and thanks to the Magic Cap, enchant the Englishman and his large party of friends which in this instance will prove to be the audience. Seats are now on sale at Plummer's. Prices range from 25c to $1.00.

Brilliant Original New York Production.

"Knee-deep" in songs, dances, girls and plot, "The Beauty Spot" the musical comedy by Reginald DeKoven and Joseph Herbert with Jefferson DeAngelis as the star, comes to the Academy Monday night and seats go on sale tomorrow morning at Plummer's.

The plot revolves around the fact that the wife of General Samovar has a mole on her left knee, but it was not that that worried him. He knew she had it, and she knew she had it, and he knew that she knew that he knew she had it, and she knew that he knew that she knew that he knew she had it. It didn't bother her in the least. She was only intensely grateful that it was on her knee rather than on the end of her nose, so she was content. But the General was greatly worried as to just how in the world did the other fellow know just where the beauty spot was. Enough of this plot-telling, however. It will suffice to add that the picture which reveals guilty knowledge of the beauty spot in Anthony Comsock's bed in time to quell the scandal.

Reginald DeKoven's contribution to the offering is delightful. "The Boulevard Glide," a brand new dancing concered number ought to give the forlorn dancing inventors an idea for the season's sensational society dance.

The management has made every effort in he matter of grouping girls, trailing, marching, dancing and maneuvering processionals and ballets in huge crowds. The two scenes, though completely blotted out at times by a firmament of jewel-bedecked feminine beauty, a parade of glossy arms, twinkling slippers, floating and flying spangled scarfs, and stratling lingerie, are scenes, unique in idea and beautifully painted.

Mr. DeAngelis is supported by a company of well known people who were associated with him during the seven months' run at the Herald Square Theatre, New York, among whom are George J. MacFarlane, Viola Gillette, Florence Martin, Joseph Fay, Chas. W. Meyer, Inez Dean, Arvid Paulson, Ida Vantine and 60 others.

Change of Programme at Crystal.

There was a complete change of programme at the Crystal Palace yesterday and at each performance there was a large and well pleased audience. The bill this week is very clever and entertaining. The people are showing their appreciation of the efforts of Manager Peiffer in giving the city a first-class vaudeville playhouse by their liberal patronage. In addition to the vaudeville bill the Crystal is now giving two excellent motion pictures at each performance.

At the Bijou Today.

"Wilful Peggy," a story of the early days in Ireland, will be the feature of today's bill at the Bijou theatre. It is a Biograph subject. Another fine picture is entitled "Dumb Half-Breed's Defense," an intensely dramatic story of the West. It shows the tremendous odds against an innocent dumb half-breed, accused of the murder of his sister and her brutal husband, and how he cleared himself in a pantomimic defense.

It Saved His Leg.

"All thought I'd lose my leg," writes J. A. Swenson, of Watertown, Wis. "Ten years of eczema, that 15 doctors could not cure, had at last laid me up. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured it, sound and well." Infallible for Skin Eruptions, Eczema, Salt Rheum, Boils, Fever Sores, Burns, Scalds Cuts and Piles. 25c. at Robert B. Bellamy's.

The event is known in the Jewish calendar as the Rosh-Hosannah, or the Feast of the New Year. It is a season of solemnity and rejoicing in the Jewish church. THE EDINBURGH CONFERENCE.

Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells Will Tell of Laymen's Meeting Sunday Morning.

Members of the congregation of the First Presbyterian church and many members of other churches of the city, will be interested to learn that at the morning service Sunday the pastor, Rev. Dr. John M. Wells, will tell something of the World's Laymen's Missionary Conference held in Edinburgh, Scotland, last June, which he attended as a delegate. Dr. Wells is deeply interested in the Laymen's Missionary Movement and his remarks Sunday relative to the great meeting held in Scotland will not only be interesting but will be instructive.

MORE PINKHAM CURES

Added to the Long List due to This Famous Remedy.

Oronogo, Mo.—"I was simply a nervous wreck. I could not walk across the floor without my heart fluttering and I could not even receive a letter. Every month I had such a bearing down sensation, as if the lower parts would fall out. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done my nerves a great deal of good and has also relieved the bearing down. I recommended it to some friends and two of them have been greatly benefited by it."—Mrs. MAE MCKNIGHT, Oronogo, Mo.

Another Grateful Woman.

St. Louis, Mo.—"I was bothered terribly with a female weakness and had backache, bearing down pains and pains in lower parts. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound regularly and used the Sanative Wash and now I have no more troubles that way."—Mrs. AL. HERZOG, 5722 Prescott Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, indigestion, dizziness, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result is worth millions to many suffering women.

A SHARP ADVANCE IN COTTON

Followed Early Decline in the Market Yesterday—Influenced by Bullish Crop Reports—Conditions.

New ork Sept 29.—An early decline in the cotton market was followed by a sharp advance, but only the late months sold above the high level of yesterday and the close was off from the best under realizing and selling for a reaction, although the final tone was very steady at a net decline of 1 point on November with other deliveries 3 to 11 points net higher.

Business was very active during the morning and after opening steady at a decline of 1 to 17 points, the near months relatively easy in sympathy with Liverpool, prices advanced on covering by some of yesterday's late sellers and a renewal of aggressive support from prominent Wall Street and Western operators. The cables were lower than due on the New York close of yesterday but showed weakness as would indicate that the English trade is taking a serious view of the Lancashire situation and this probably encouraged buying here while support was also influenced by further bullish private crop reports. Offerings were very heavy, being not only in the way of realizing but also representing rather more confidence on the part of reactionists yet they were readily absorbed and it was not until the market showed a net gain of from 9 to 15 points with January and later months selling a point or so above the high level of yesterday that there was any reaction of consequence. Then demand became little less active and prices eased off 6 or 7 points from the top under continued realizing and a little selling from spot people who were supposed to be operating on the failure of Southern spot markets to respond more readily to the local advance. Only two or three of the Southern markets reported early were 1-8c higher and some of the more important markets were unchanged with Savannah easy. It was reported during the day that the National Ginners' Association made the condition of the crop 66 per cent. against 70.8 last month and another private estimate issued made the condition 65.4 per cent. comparing with the official figures of 58.5 last year. This authority also estimated the crop at 10,600,000 bales, with an average frost date. The West Indian storm was reported still moving westward, but attracted less attention than yesterday.

Receipts at the ports today 63,822 bales against 29,990 last week and 67,986 last year; for the week 325,000 bales against 241,946 last week and 380,881 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 8,285 bales against 6,113 last year, and at Houston 17,756 bales against 15,884 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet and unchanged; middling uplands 13.75; middling gulf 14.00; sales 5,727 bales. Futures opened steady and closed steady.

COTTON MARKET YESTERDAY.

Temper of Trade in Favor of High Prices—New Buying.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Sept. 29.—New buying in anticipation of a bullish bureau report absorbed the heavy profit taking which has occurred from time to time during the day. These buyers have at times taken the liquidation as almost personal, so sure do they feel of higher prices after the report is published. October was relatively easy as it became evident that tenders would be made from the recent receipts at this port on both September and October. The temper of the trade is distinctly in favor of high prices. The sellers at the low level early in the month are now conspicious buyers.

Liverpool is expected to become a buyer during October, and the threatened lockout is thought to indicate this action.

A LISTLESS DAY FOR STOCKS

Caused by Decline in Reading on the Market Yesterday—United States Steel and Union Pacific Factors.

New York, Sept. 29.—Speculation in stocks assumed an extremely listless tone today when Reading fell back from its excessive prominence. This change was only by comparison with the last few days, that stock, United States Steel and Union Pacific retaining their old predominance with dealings of more than half the aggregate for the whole market. The principal gains were established shortly before the closing which was strong.

The course of the preparations for October money settlements absorbed a large share of attention in the financial district to the exclusion of stock speculation. Another rise in the call money rate indicated that a lessening of loanable funds might be a positive influence in the dullness of the market. The fact that the rise in money rates was not confined to the call loan division, carries the implication that the conditions are not merely temporary, or had to do with the October first payments. Time loans for the nearer maturities, especially those which just carry over the end of the present year, are notably affected. A somewhat easier tone for commercial paper is ascribed to a lessening of supply, rather than to an increase in the demand from buyers.

On the foreign exchange side, the course of foreign money markets holds rates against relief for the local money markets.

A feature of the day's markets was the liquidation for the completion of the process of maturing that crop. The increasing prospect of a bumper crop of that cereal had a helpful effect on stocks especially those immediately concerned with the movement and use of corn.

The special weakness of American Sugar was taken to be due to an apprehension that the case of the government against that corporation may be made a prominent feature in the political campaign in New York State this Fall.

The firm money market has not checked the improved demand for bonds. A feature is the reappearance on the tape of many investment issues which have been dormant for a long time past. The tone was strong. Total sales par value $2,658,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales for the day 337,000 shares, including: Sugar, 4,000; Tobacco, 100; A. C. L. 100; C. & O. 15,900; L. & N. 200; N. & W., 200; Reading, 72,300; Southern Railway, 600; Southern Railway preferred, 200; U. P. 2,600; U. S. Stl 1, 56,300; V. C. C., 1,200.

CABINET IS STILL BUSY.

Devoting Its Time to Estimates of Governmental Departments.

Washington, Sept. 29.—The cabinet continued its daily sessions at the White House today. All matters of general interest have been disposed of, it is understood, and the cabinet is now said to be devoting its time to estimates submitted by various governmental departments.

The President and General Wood, chief of staff, continued their examination of the War Department estimates for the appropriation for the next fiscal year and further reductions than the $10,000,000 already announced in the total as compared with the current appropriation, were determined upon. The revised estimates provide for $2,000,000 for immediate use in the fortification of the Panama Canal and it is probable that before the work is completed appropriations of approximately $20,000,000 altogether will be needed. The consideration of the army estimates will be completed tomorrow.

The naval estimates, as finally passed upon today, show a reduction of $4,000,000 under the appropriations for the present year, and, as announced by Secretary Meyer, the building programme provides for the next year is two battleships and two colliers.

CARDINAL VANNUTELLI.

Received Welcome to New York Yesterday—Representing the Pope.

Washington, Sept. 29.—Welcomed at the Union station by a throng of several thousand Catholics, half of whom were school children, Cardinal Vincenzo Vannutelli, who represented Pius X at the International Eucharistic Congress at Montreal,, arrived in Washington today. The reception was an inspiring spectacle, designed as an unofficial American and Catholic greeting of the nation's capital to a Prince of the church. The prelate, accompanied by Monsignor Diogde Falcanio, the Apostolic delegate, Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul, and Bishop O'Connell, of San Francisco, were received by President Taft this forenoon, who added his word of greeting to the distinguished churchman. The apostolic delegate Monsignor Falconio tonight was host at a dinner to Cardinal Vannutelli at the papal legation. There were present many prominent members of the Catholic clergy in Washington.

The prelate will leave for Baltimore for Saturday and be the guest for a short time of Cardinal Gibbons. Later in the day he will proceed to New York, stopping off on the way for a two hour stay in Philadelphia.

LORD MAYOR OF LONDON.

First Teetotaler, Sir Thomas Strong, Elected Without Onposition.

London, Sept. 29.—Sir Thomas Vesey Strong today was elected Lord Mayor of London without opposition. Sir Thomas is a pronounced temperance advocate and enjoys the distinction of being the first teetotaler chosen as chief magistrate of the metropolis. He was born in 1857 and in 1900 married Lillie, the eldest daughter of the late James Hartnell.

Sir Thomas was educated privately and is credited with being a self-made man. In business he has been successful as the head of a paper supply firm. He was knighted while occupying the office of sheriff in the city of London. He is a director of the United Kingdam temperance and general provident institution and a commander of the Order of Isabella, the Catholic of Spain, and the order of Our Lady Villa Vicez of Portugal.

The mayor will figure prominently in the entertainments and ceremonies connected with the coronation of King George.

RAISES DISCOUNT RATE.

Bank of England Sent it up to Four Per Cent. Yesterday.

London, Sept. 29.—As has been anticipated the Bank of England raised its discount rate to 4 per cent. today.

The advance was due chiefly to the large outflow of gold to Egypt and Turkey, the prospective Indian demand and the fact that the weekly arrivals are being steadily absorbed by the continent. The recent advance in the German bank rate and yesterday's smart rise in market discounts hastened the bank's decision.

BROOKIN'S FLIGHT DISTANCE RECORD

continually. Every window was filled with heads peering up into the sky and on overturned suit cases many wrote to friends of their remarkable experience of racing an aeroplane.

Every country cross road had its quota of gazers and every village was filled with skygazers. Trainmen would ask when they came up: "Where is he?" and the reply always was: "Way up ahead there."

The first stop at Gilman, Ill., was made by arrangement. There Brookins alighted in a cornfield. He had no difficulty in pushing the machine out into the open ground, where he waited 14 minutes for the train to come up. He called out to the passengers: "How am I making it? I have been here more than an hour, it seems to me. Where are the rest of the fellows with my oil and gasoline?"

After these necessaries had been provided, Brookins conversed with the newspaper reporters and said: "Well, I must get away, if I am to have luncheon with you at Springfield."

At Mount Pulaski he showed no more concern. This was 24 miles from the capitol whose dome he saw when he rose high on the last leg of his trip. Ignoring Wilbur Wright's instruction to fly only half an hour more because of the broken pump, Brookins aimed for the dome of the main building in the fair grounds. The propellors whirred true and he soared to the fair grounds with no sign of further trouble. He sailed high, about 2,000 feet up until ready to make the daring swoope and curves with which he landed safely in the fair grounds.

The roaring cheer which greeted his arrival at the goal seemed to the men in the racing train to be only a swelling of the almost continuous cheer that had greeted the daring aviator all the way from Chicago.

As soon as he had his machine stored and guarded Brookins, who is 22 years old, went to Springfield to keep his luncheon appointment with the reporters. The World's record for continued flight, previously held by Glenn H. Curtiss at 141 miles had been set at 192 1-2 miles by Brookins in a Wright biplane.

THE WEST POINT TROUBLE.

Statement From Cadet Tells of Conditions—About Capt. Longan.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 29.—The exact statement of the cadets side of the existing trouble at West Point Military Academy, as a consequence of which the entire corps is under restrictions, was given in a confidential letter from one of the cadets to a friend in this city, who said tonight:

"The cadets allege that Capt. Longan started out at West Point by saying: 'This here corps has gone to hell. I'll make 'em buck up.'

"The trouble was cumulative. First, on the target range, though it is by order that the cadets as a protection from the concussion of the guns, put cotton in their ears. Capt. Longan accused them of stuffing their ears with cotton so that they could not hear his commands. The young men were surprised, but said nothing.

"Second the cadets say that he 'cussed out' one of the finest men in the first class.

"Third, when Cadet Burt, first classman, returned from his brother's funeral, he himself having appendicitis at the time he went twice to Capt. Longan's office to report. Each time Capt. Longan was absent at the officers' club. Accordingly Cadet Captain Bradley, of the corps, officer of the day and next in command, inspected Burt's baggage took his money and contraband and sent him to the hospital. Next day Burt was operated upon and was also reported three times by Longan. Bradley told Capt. Longan the circumstances but the captain would not believe him and started in on a tirade against Burt.

"Fourth, one of the cadets 'visited' across the hall in the barracks, Capt. Longan thought erroneously that it was a first classman, whereupon he reported the wrong man. The first classman explained in writing that the report was a mistake. Capt. Longan, calling him up, said, 'I don't believe what you say in your explanation. You've got to prove your statements.' One inviolable rule of West Point is that when a cadet gives his word of honor it is always taken without question. No greater affront can be put upon a cadet than to question his veracity.

"The final grievance was when Capt. Longan made 'area birds' walk in the rain. Under this form of punishment cadets have to walk with the guns two hours on Wednesday afternoon and four hours on Saturday afternoon. It is the immemorial custom that they can walk on the stoop barracks when it rains. But Capt. Longan lined them out in the downpour, he being under cover, dry and smoking a pipe and said: 'You men have got to walk in the rain, for I'll show you who is boss around here.' Moreover, he refused to let the men oil their guns and made the corporals take the rages out the bores, so that the cadets had to clean off rust for days afterwards.

"The first 'silence' was spontaneous and fairly without the element of premeditated conspiracy. The men simply refused to eat or to speak a word while Longan was in the room. It was wrong insubordinate, but human. It was a tacit rebellion against what the cadets felt to be tyranny. The men do not regret their action. Their attitude is that their code has been broken and their word questioned.

"If every cadet is called before the court of inquiry and asked if the above statements are true, he will answer affirmatively, though not a man of them has yet consented to say more to the court than 'We have formed a dislike for this officer.'

"The men resent Capt. Longan's explanation that he was a new man and that the cadets wanted to break him in, and they feel that he has not made a correct statement, but they have got confidence in the justice and common sense of General Barry, the superintendent, who they believe, will put a different light upon the situation within another week."

The ads will show you whether or not there's a chance today to buy that piece of furniture at your price.

NO CANDIDATES AS YET SELECTED

City is the gubernatorial nominee, the name of Thomas M. Osborne, of Auburn, is most prominently mentioned for second place in accordance with time honored custom as an up-State man. Mr. Osborne's backers, however, are still conducting his fight for first place.

Parker's Telling Address.

Except for the address of Alton B. Parker today, the opening session of the convention was purely routine Mr. Parker read his address from manuscript in measured tones. He was greeted by scattered applause when he delivered a telling phrase. Mention of the old time leaders, especially Tilden, Cleveland and Hill, brought cheers and the delegates showed interest in his criticism of the tariff, his references to the increased cost of living and particularly his charges that the national administration had been inexcusably extravagant.

But the real enthusiasm of the day came when he laid aside his set speech and launched with energy into a bitter attack on executive interference in legislative and judicial public business and the ascendency of Theodore Roosevelt in the late convention at Saratoga, which he declared had been achieved by the aid of Federal office holders in the face of insincere denunciation of machine rule and the bosses.

At the conclusion of the key-note speech, the committee on contested seats, permanent organization and resolutions were named and adjournment was taken until 1 o'clock tomorrow. The committee on resolutions went into session late in the afternoon and the deliberations on the platform was given to a sub-committee which included Seymour Van Santvoord, of Renselaer, chairman of the full committee; Morgan J. O'Brien, New York; John B. Stanchfield, Chemung and Norman E. Mack, Erie.

The consideration of the direct primary plank was begun as soon as the sub-committee went into session.

MOUNT OLIVE AFFAIRS.

Office of Public Weigher—Personal and General News Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Mount Olive, N. C. Sept. 28.—About two weeks ago the town of Mount Olive by ordinance established the office of public weigher, with platform scales, requiring that all cotton seed and several other kinds of marketable produce sold here by weight shall be weighed on those scales. Last week the scales were installed and the ordinance went into effect. It appears that there are two distinct, strong and well defined factions as to the necessity and advantage of such scales, one faction being very strong in favor, while the other is so strongly opposed to the measure that the matter will likely be taken to the courts for a test of the town's power to create the office and require such weighing for which the weigher is to collect a fee from the person offering the produce for sale. Mr. David N. McGhee has been appointed weigher.

Rev. P. A. Anthony, pastor of the Baptist church here, is assisted by Rev. C. M. Rock, of North Wilkesboro, in a series of meetings at the Calypso Baptist church.

Rev. Peter McIntyre, of the Presbyterian church here returned last week from Dalhousie, New Brunswick, Canada, his old home, where he spent about two months and preached at the Presbyterian church here last Sunday night to the great pleasure and delight of his fond and appreciative congregation.

Mr. and Mrs. DuBrutz English and their little daughtear, Henrietta, returned this morning from a visit of several weeks with friends at Smithsbury, Md., and report a splendid time.

The many friends here of Rev. E. E. Rose, pastor of the Methodist church, are glad to see him out after several days' sickness.

News reached here Monday of the death at Charlottesville, Va. of Mrs. L. Frank Oates, widow of the late Thos. Oates, of this city. She had been quite ill for some time and had been in Charlottesville for several months. Her remains were taken to Spencer, N. C., the home of her brother-in-law, Rev. J. N. Stallings, for interement yesterday.

Already much interest is manifested in the joint discussion here Saturday night, Oct. 8th, between Dr. Falson and Maj. Geo. E. Butler.

HONORED TSAI SUUN.

Salute of 15 Guns Fired From Training Station.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 29.—As a mark of respect to his rank, a salute of fifteen guns were fired from the training station when Vice-Admiral Tsai Suun, second price in rank and direct representative of the Chinese government arrived at the navy yard here today.

He was met at the North Landing of the yard by Captain J. P. Parker, acting commandant, and his aide, and escorted throughout the entire naval station here.

The marine guard was paraded in honor of his visit to the yard. Later he boarded one of the yard tugs and was taken to Norfolk, where he spent some time.

Accompanying Prince Suun was his entire retinue of nearly a dozen officers of rank.

The party arrived in Hampton Roads this morning on the President's yacht Mayflower. They visited the ship yard at Newport News during the day.

NEWSPAPER PLANT BURNS.

Times-Democrat Building in New Orleans Destroyed.

New Orleans, Sept. 29.—Practically the entire plant of the Times-Democrat Publishing Company was destroyed by fire, originating shortly before midnight in the paper warehouse on the first floor of the building. Other nearby buildings seemed doomed at one time, but firemen succeeded in confining the blaze to the Times-Democrat and to a warehouse in the rear of the building. Estimates place the loss of the Times-Democrat at more than $125,000, partly covered by insurance.

New York, Sept. 29.—Prince Tsai Suun, uncle of the Emperor of China, and brother of the Prince Regent with his suite, arrived here from Washington tonight, and was escorted to his hotel by a detail of United States army officers, a detachment of mounted police, and delegations from the several Chinese societies of the city.

PRISON COMFORTS MOTIVE FOR EVIL

President Taft Thinks it Encourages Criminals to Violate the Law.

ADDRESSES PRISON CONGRESS

Warns Against Associating Young Criminals With Hardened Lawbreakers.—President Butler Opens Convention.

Washington, Sept. 29.—In receiving the delegates of the International Prison Congress in the East room of the White House today, President Taft cautioned them against making prisons so comfortable as to furnish a motive for violating the law and also warned against associating prisonrs who were not criminals with hardened lawbreakers.

The President said that some times when he had visited the prisons of this government he had thought they were stronger in theory than in practice. He expressed the hope, however, that this government now had prisons that illustrated at some length, some improvements that the Frison Congress recommended. He said that Attorney General Wickersham, who had given some attention to the matter, would be at the coming conference to make and receive suggestions.

"Such an association as this is an evidence of the growing civilization of the world," continued the President, "especially since so many countries take an interest in the proper humane development and treatment of their criminals.

"I hope that your convention will still more widely spread information on the treatment of criminals and the making of them into useful members of society; and that your deliberations will not by influenced by maudlin sentiment on the one hand or by desire for vengeance on the other. it is easy to err in each direction. If we make our prisons so comfortable as to furnish a motive for violating the law, they will not then serve the use for which they were properly established. On the other hand they are certainly not properly framed and used if, by associating with hardened criminals men who are not criminals, and who may be saved altogether becoming criminals, the number of criminals is increased rather than diminished."

The opening session of the annual convention of the American Prison Association was held tonight at which President Amos. W. Butler, of Indianapolis, Ind., delivered his annual address, taking as his subject "Convicts and Conservation." Te report of the committee of discharged prisoners was made to the convention by F. A. Whittier, superintendent of the Minnesota State Training School for Boys.

The American Association will close its convention Saturday and the opening session of the International Prison Congress will be held Sunday afternoon. The convention will continue during the week.

Several hundred delegates to the two conventions have arrived and the visitors spent the day in sight-seeing.

WANT SAFETY APPLIANCES.

Railroad Representatives At Hearing Before Commerce Commission.

Washington, Sept. 29.—Two hundred railroad officials and operatives from all parts of the country, at a hearing before the Interstate Commerce Commission discussed uniform standards of safety appliances.

Within a fortnight the commission, by law, must issue an order designating the number, location and application of safety appliances on railroad cars, to comply with the intent of the Congress to provide facilities that will adequately protect life and property. The regulations, suggested tentatively by conferences between the railroad men and the commission during the last six months, were under consideration today and on them the order of the commission will be based.

Haile Holden, of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, speaking for the committee representing 200 operating roads, 198,000 miles of lines, 2,000,000 cars and 52,000 locomotives, said it was the desire of the roads to reach as high a standard of safety of equipment as posible. The cost of the proposed equipment, he added, would apto some of the proposed regulations, because in the opinion of the railroad experts, they lacked flexibility.

President Garreston, of the Order of Railway Conductors, contended that the adoption of proper safety appliances was merely a matter of safety to the employes of railroads and to the public and ought not to be considerede in the light of expense. This was the view taken by President Lee, of th Railway Trainmen, President Hawley, of the Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and Vice-President Hurley, of the Locomotive Engineers.

Richmond, Va. Sept. 29.—For a reason which is not clear, but presumably because she is not now in Norfolk, Mrs. J. E. B. Stuart, widow of the great cavalry leader in the war between the States, has declined the appointment tendered her to be sponsor for the State at large at tre approaching meeting of the State Grand Camp of Confederate Veterans in Norfonlk.

VERGE OF [illegible]THER UPHEAVAL

Boxer Uprisings About to be Repeated in China—Advices Received at Washington—Foreigners May be in Jeopardy.

Washington, Sept. 29.—China is declared to be on the verge of another upheaval, similar to the boxer uprising and lives of foreigners are in jeopardy. Advices received here recently from government officials in China express the belief that an outbreak at any time would not surprise them. The State Department has instructed its diplomatic and consular officials to maintain a close watch on the internal conditions.

All through the Summer months there have been mutterings of discontent in some of the Chinese provinces, due to the rice famine, dynastic difficulties and dissatisfaction over acts of the Pekin government as to foreign investments in China. Good harvests mitigated to some extent the gravity of the situation, but there is still a general feeling of unrest according to personal letters received here from men on duty in that quarter.

The army and the navy are prepared for any emergency, but their readiness is solely a precautionary measure, it is said, and should not be taken as an indication of immediate danger.

Authentic advices from those charged with keeping in touch with the conditions indicate that the only thing lacking to parallel today's situation with that preceding the boxer troubles, which drew into China the American forces as well as those of other Nations, is the organization and that only needs a leader to effect that.

Every vessel in the Asiatic fleet, as well as the military forces at Manila, is prepared for almost instant action in the event the trouble breaks.

Revolutionary uprisings are of greater or less frequency throughout China and it is recognized by Washington authorities that trouble is liable to occur at any time in some of the provinces.

Boston, Sept. 29.—No reports of unrest in China have been received recently at the headquarters here of the American board of commissioners for foreign missions.

The unrest in China in the belief of the American board officials is the result of a newly awakened National feeling among the Chinese people. The slogan of an ever increasing element, "China for Chinese" has been heard throughout the Empire and the anti-foreign feeling is not directed against missionaries as Christians, but rather because they are foreigners.

The American board's mission stations in China are divided among three districts, Foo Chow, South China and North China.

LORIMER INVESTIGATION.

Representative Beckemeyer on Stand —Received Money After Vote.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Representative H. J. C. Beckemeyer, on the witness stand today before the Lorimer investigating committee of the United States Senate, testified that he received $1,000 after he had voted for William Lorimer for United States Senator and that the money was paid to him because of his vote.

Beckemeyer was the third legislator in this hearing to declare that he received money for his vote in the Senatorial election, Representative White and State Senator Holtslaw being the others.

Counsel for Senator Lorimer brought out in cross-examination that Beckemeyer's vote for Senator Lorimer was not induced by the promise of any payment.

Beckemeyer who was a witness in the two trials of Minority Leader Lee O'Neil Browne, who was acquitted of bribing Representative White, testified that the $1,000 was paid to him by Browne, who said as he gave him a roll of bills 'Here is the Lorimer money.'

"I understood when I got the money that it was for my vote for Senator Lorimer," said the witness.

On cross-examination Beckemeyer was questioned about conversations he had with Representative Michael Link, another Democratic legislator who voted for Senator Lorimer and who is expected to be a witness before the committee tomorrow.

In one of these conversations, Beckemeyer testified, Link said to him, "My testimony does not fit with yours, I promised to vote for Senator Lorimer long before the election and did not receive any money for it."

John W. Dennis, of East St. Louis, Ill., at one time a partner of Representative White, testified that in June, 1909, White paid a number of bills. He said that prior to a trip to Chicago, White had no money, but after his return he had a considerable sum.

TWO DIE "PLAYING DOCTOR."

Children Swallowed Carbolic Acid and Suffered Great Agony.

Covington, Ky., Sept. 29.—While playing doctor today, a son and a daughter of Thomas Cobb, swallowed carbolic acid and died soon afterwards. They were 5 and 7 years old.

The children were playing in the kitchen of their home during the absence of their mother. They found a bottle of carbolic acid.

"Let's play doctor," one suggested. They found two spoons and two glasses and divided the acid into two portions which they swallowed.

Their screams of agony brought the mother from the neighbor's but before a physician could reach them both were dead. The coroner will hold an inquest.

BROOKINS' FLIGHT DISTANCE RECORD

Aviator Flies From Chicago to Springfield Covering 186 Miles.

GOES FASTER THAN EXPRESS

Thousands of People See Aeroplane As It Passes Along the Route—Wins Fame and $10,000 Prize of Newspaper.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Aviator Walter Brookin broke the American cross-country sustained flight record today by completing a flight of 186 miles from Chicago to Springfield, Ill. The flight was made with two descents, one at Gilman, Ill., where he remained on the ground 70 minutes and another at Mount Pulaski, Ill., where he stayed but 25 minutes on the ground.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 29.—Aviator Walter Brookins alighted gracefully with his aeroplane in the State Fair grounds at 4:27 P. M., seven hours and 40 minutes out from Chicago, having sailed his Wright biplane the 186 miles with two stops.

He descended at Gilman, Ill., 75 miles from Chicago, at 11:30 A. M., and at Mount Pulaski, Ill., 163 miles from Chicago at 3:20 P. M. The first stop was for water, oil and gasoline; the second for supplies and because his pump had broken and the engines became hot.

The railroad distance from the start in Chicago to Springfield is 187 miles, His official starting time was 9.15 a.m. The longest sustained flight was from Gilman, Ill., to Mount Pulaski, 88 miles.

Brookins thus broke Charles K. Hamilton's record for sustained cross-country flight of 86 miles from New York to Philadelphia. He also made the longest cross-country continued flight in America and thereby won the $10,000 prize offered by the Chicago Record-Herald. In both places where the aviator alighted, vast throngs gathered.

As Brookins swept out of the field at Mount Pulaski, one of the small rubber tired wheels, on which he rolls in making headway before arising, struck a hummock and was wrenched off. Brookins, not knowing of the accident rose 2,000 feet, and headed for Springfield swirled away, leaving the Illinois Central special train far behind.

This was the second railroad locotive that the aviator had left far behind in a fair race. Engineer W. F. Burt, who made the first attempt to defeat the air craft had to give up the attempt at Clinton, Ill.

Brookins reached the State Fair Grounds eight minutes before the Illinois Central fast special train reached the Springfield station 3 1-2 miles short of the fair grounds. The actual flying time was five hours 44 minutes for the 192 1-2 miles, an average of 33 miles an hour.

The crowd at the Fair Grounds surged about Brookins threatening to crush the machine, till he had to make a personal appeal to get the throng back.

When those on the special train reached the aeroplane, nearly half an hour after the aviator landed he said: "Where have you been all the time? I got here and have been waiting to lunch with you as I promised. You have kept me waiting half an hour."

Asked about the flight he said:

"Why it was nothing only staying up, that's all. It merely took more time and thats about the only difference from a practice flight. I knew I could make it.

"It was one of the prettiest flights I ever made. There must have been three fourths of a million people looking up at me.

"My arms are tired and it was quite a strain, because I had to watch all the while, but I am good for the same thing right now, if necessary.

Wilbur Wright's first comment was: "As the woman says, I told you so."

Later Mr. Wright added: "There was never a time when I felt he would not make it. I think this trip has shown conclusively that the aeroplane is a successful navigator of the air and those who followed the machine from Chicago in the train with me probably feel, as confident and sure of it now as I do.'

Officers of the State Fair Asociation who had accompanied the newspaper men on the Illinois Central special were jubilant over the success of the flight.

Only water, oil and gasoline and a balky pump stood between Brookins and a continuous, sustained flight between Chicago and Springfield.

Never was there a prettier race, say those who witnessed a part of it, than that between the aeroplane and the special train on the Illinois Central. Two locomotives were used, each running about half the distance, but neither was ahead when the aeroplane made its descents. Each time the watchers, craning their heads out of the windows of the train, saw Brookins alight and the conductor stopped the train when it came up to the aeroplane.

Aboard the train all was excited

TEDDY PLANS LIVE CAMPAIGN

Returns Home in Triumph After Great Victory at Saratoga—Will Wage Active Fight for the Progressives.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 29.—Theodore Roosevelt returned early this evening from Saratoga with the scalp of the Republican old guard of New York State added to his big collection of trophies. When he reached Troy, N. Y., last Monday on his way to Saratoga, he told the crowd which met him at the station that when he had returned from Africa with a lot of trophies and that when he came back from Saratoga he would have some more.

The Colonel made good his word by returning to his home town the generally accepted leader of the Republican party in the State and immensely proud of his new trophy, to win which he was compelled to make one of the hardest fights of his life.

Col. Roosevelt went to bed early tonight to get a good night's sleep, for he expected to have little rest until after election time. He was tired and hoarse, but in fine spirits. He expressed himself as well pleased with the result of the convention.

The Colonel took the train from Saratoga at 8 o'clock this morning reaching Poughkeepsie at noon he attended a luncheon, drove two miles to the Dutchess county fair grounds and made a speech in which he repeated his assertion which corruption must not be tolerated.

On reaching New York late in the afternoon he started at once for Oyster Bay. He had no visitors this evening and said that he hoped to have a quiet time for the next few days as there will be no let-up when once the campaign is fairly under way. He has placed his services at the disposal of the Republican State Committee and hopes to make at least one speech in every county in the State. He will try to make the campaign one of the liveliest which New York State has seen in many a year. Early in the Summer he made no secret of his opinion that the chances for a Republican victory in the State this Fall were not at all bright.

Now in view of the victory of the progressives at the convention, the colonel believes the party has an excellent chance of winning the election.

In addition to the campaign at home, Col. Roosevelt has much to do elsewhere. A week from today he is to start on his Southern trip which will extend over a little more than a week. On this trip he will speak at Knoxville, Tenn., before the Appalachian Exposition; one in Atlanta at the Uncle Remus Day Celebration and in Hot Springs, Ark. Then turning North he will speak at Peoria, Ill., before the Knights of Columbus and will make a campaign speech in Indiana for Senator Beveridge.

At his offices in New York tomorrow the colonel will hold a conference to lay the first plans for the campaign.

WRONG MAN HELD FOR THEFT.

H. H. Layne Not Person Wanted for Robbery at Jacksonville.

Lynchburg, Va., Sept. 29.—H. H. Layne, who was arrested here about a week ago and detained for the Jacksonville, Fla., authorities under the name of Guy Walker, on a charge of the theft of $600 at that place, was released when it was shown that his arrest was due to mistaken identity. Layne, whose home is in Fredericksburg, Va., proved he could not have been in Florida at the time of the theft and he was released despite the fact that he tallied perfectly with the description of Ely, the man wanted.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 29.—Inspector of Police James Casey, second in command of the police department of Cincinnati, against whom charges of receiving graft have been made by a witness at the graft investigation, was suspended today by Chief of Police Milliken.

BROKER'S OFFICE FALLS UNDER BAN

Sensational Raid on New York's Curb Market by Federal Agents.

SEVEN BROKERS IN CUSTODY.

B. H. Scheftel & Co., Charged With Questionable Mining Operations—Big Advertising Campaign—Connections n Several Cities—Bonds.

New York, Sept. 29.—Following one of the most sensational raids ever engineered by federal authorities in this city, directed today against the firm of B. H. Scheftel & Company, brokers in Broad street, seven members of the company, including B. H. Scheftel, its president, were held in aeavy bail this evening by United States Commissioner Shields for nearing on October 5th, on a charge of using the mails to defraud.

Tonight search is being made by the police and by government inspectors for George Granam Rice, whose real name is said to be Simon Herzig, the originator of the race track bet tipping system, who is declared to be the real head of the concern.

At the time of the raid here, announcement was made from Washington that warrants had been issued for the managers of the company's branch offices in Boston, Providence, Philadelphia, Detroit, Chicago and Milwaukee. According to agents of the Department of Justice the Scheftel company has been engaged in promoting the sale of mining securities of doubtful value in all parts of the country. Estimates of the firm's dealings are placed as high as $5,000,000.

The seven men arraigned here are B. H. Scheftel, Charles F. Belser, secretary of the company; George T. Sullivan, Clarence McCormack, John Delaney, William T. Seagrave and Chas. B. Stone. Warrants for 16 men had been issued, but the others, including Rice and Charles S. Herzig, who is said to be his brother, eluded the raiders. Rice had been in his offices earlier in the day, but had left before the officers swooped down on the place.

A surety company gave bail in $15,000 for Scheftel; $3,000 for Seagrave, $3,000 for Stone and $2,500 for Delaney. Belser, McCormack and Sullivan were committed to the Tombs as bondsmen were not forthcoming. While the hearing was set for October 5th, it is expected that the Federal grand jury will have taken action before that time.

The firm of B. H. Scheftel & company was organized about two years ago and had conducted a large business, mainly through an extensive advertising propaganda. Mining specialties were its chief offering to investors. A weekly newspaper was published to reach clients and a corps of 35 stenographers is said to have been required to attend to its correspondence. After the arrests today two patrol wagon loads of papers, books and memoranda were seized by the inspectors for examination.

Proceedings against the concern, it was stated, had been contemplated by the government for some time, but action was deferred until an investigation of the properties controlled by it could be investigated. Special agents are said to have been sent into Western States to look up these properties and the raid was decided upon when their reports were received.

Another charge against the company by George Scarborough, the government inspector, who made the complaint, is that it had resorted to what he called a "crooked bucket shop scheme." He declared the concern had charged customers six per cent. on margins and had collected commissions without rendering any service in return. The difference between the actual prices of stocks on curb market, and fictitious quotations given customers, Scarborough also alleges, was converted to the company's use. In his complaint the defendants are accused of attempting to defraud William A. Childs, Charles H. Schlack and Dr. D. J. Symanski.

The raid today was made while the curb market was in full swing and attracted much attention. Thousands rushed to the scene and police reserves had to be called out to clear a path or the patrol wagons.

Chicago Office Raided.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—The raid of the offices of B. H. Scheftels & Company, at 190 LaSalle street, in Chicago, was raided by Deputy United States marshals. The manager, E. L. Mead, was arrested. Clerks, stenographers and telegraphers were served with subpoenas to appear later as witnesses.

Manager Mead was taken before United States Commissioner Foote. He waived examination and furnished a $5,000 bond.

United States District Attorney Sims ordered the arrests in Chicago on receiving a 400 word cipher telegram from Henry A. Wise, Federal attorney in New York.

INQUIRY GROWS SENSATIONAL

Name of Former Portsmouth, Va., Pastor, Who Moved Two Years Ago, Recorded as Voting in Virginia Primary.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 29.—The reading of the name of Rev. D. P. Harris, now pastor of the Central Baptist church, Chattanooga, Tenn., as one of those recorded as having voted in Portsmouth when Rev. Mr. Harris has been in Chattanooga for two years, was one of the many sensational developments in today's investigation of the recent second district Democratic Congressional primary election in which William A. Young, of Norfolk, appeared to have defeated Congressman H. L. Maynard by 45 votes.

Two ministers, Rev. Dr. R. B. Garrett, Baptist, and Rev. R. M. Maxey, Methodist, both testified that they did not vote in Portsmouth, when the poll books showed they did and Rev. Dr. Garrett said he knew Rev. Mr. Harris did not vote. J. M. Davis testified that he, Congressman Maynard, and John L. Watson, a prominent Portsmouth man, entered the polls together; that after Maynard voted and went away, it was proposed by one of the judges of election that former City Treasurer Tabb was out of the city whereupon, according to witness Davis, it was declared by Watson that he should put a vote in for Tabb and Davis put one in for J. McK. Jack, a banker, who Davis had said was also away. Davis declared he refused, but that Watson put a vote in. The poll books showed that L. McK. Jack voted and Mr. Jack appearing said he did not vote. The books did not show that Tabb voted. Mr. Watson appearing later said he was simply jesting with Davis in the polls and cast no fraudulent ballot. He said he had contributed from his own pocket for the conduct of the investigation in progress and that the Davis charges were false.

Citizens' counsel failed in their attempt today to have both Maynard and Young testify as to their campaign expenses.

The investigation will be transferred to Portsmouth tomorrow for the investigation of charges there alleged by Young.

The committee will adjourn Saturday night and give decision in Richmond October 4th.

Counsel for citizens today notified Commonwealth's Attorney Tilton that they will send witnesses before the October grand jury here Monday.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 29.—Sensational evidence was introduced at tonight's session of the committee, when various witnesses testified that men recorded as voting in Ha..'s Corner, Norfolk county, were dead.

George W. Whitehurst, who said he lived in Portsmouth, declared that R. L. Green, recorded as voting at Hall's Corner, did not live there.

"Where does he live?" asked Chairman McIntyre, of the committee.

"About two years ago," replied the witness, "they buried him near Smith's Creek."

An investigation of the registration books showed that Green's poll taxes are paid up to date.

CHAS. F. MURPHY IN CONTEST

Conferences Lasted Far Into This Morning—Judge Parker Delivers Keynote Speech—Absolutely Nothing S ttled.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 29.—The final conference to decide what candidates' names shall be laid before the Democratic State Convention, tomorrow, began at midnight, in the rooms of Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall. The two hours before this Mr. Murphy had spent in Tammany headquarters at the Whitcomb House "taking evidence."

One after the other he received the candidates still in the field, or their representatives and heard their claims. When he left the Whitcomb and went to his rooms at the Hotel Seneca, he was accompanied by Daniel J. Cohalan, J. Sargent Cram and National Committeeman Norman E. Mack.

John B. Stanchfield came from the conference shortly after 2 o'clock this morning and said: "I pledge you my word that absolutely nothing was settled."

Justice Morgan J. O'Brien, who also attended the conference said:

"There was a general discussion of candidates. No less than a dozen or fourteen names were mentioned, but the conference selected no one and decided to meet again at 11 o'clock this morning when they hope to agree upon a list of candidates before the convention convenes."

Chairman Dix made practically the same statement.

The first session of the Democratic convention today was a brief intermission in the serious business that has brought together here the delegates of the 61 counties of New York State. This business was the selection of a candidate for the head of the ticket, and it promised to keep the leaders out of bed nearly all night. The convention came to order at 1:07 P. M., perfected a temporary organization, listened to a bitter arraignment by the temporary chairman, Alton B. Parker, of the Republican administration in general, and the political ascendency of Theodore Roosevelt at Saratoga, in particular, and then adjourned to wait on the judgment of the leaders. Tomorrow at 1 o'clock the convention will meet again in the hope of agreeing on a candidate selected in the meantime.

Directly or indirectly, all questions of availability and fitness come ultimately before the triumvirate of which Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall is the dominating personality; Daniel Cohalan, the mouthpiece and J. Sargeant Cram, the adviser in chief.

It is the admission of Norman E. Mack, chairman of the National Democratic convention that Murphy controls the situation. Out of 450 delegates he controls, with Kings county, led by John H. McCooey, of Brooklyn, and Erie, led by William Fitzpatrick, of Buffalo, more than 200. Up-State leaders recognized tonight the hopelessness of effecting any coalition strong enough to oppose him with any show of success.

The problem that Mr. Murphy faces is one that needs all his caution, experience and judgment. He must find a candidate who will be strong enough to run at least an even race with Henry L. Stimson, backed by Theodore Roosevelt; who will command the support of Democrats of all shades of opinion; and who can win over the support of William Randolph Hearst. The leaders all feel that with Mayor Gaynor eliminated from consideration as a candidate, Mr. Hearst becomes at once a factor with whom to reckon. The editorial utterances of his morning newspaper today was interpreted here to mean that he is holding himself uncommitted. Undoubtedly there will be a strong effort made to win his co-operation.

Important meetings that may last until long after midnight are on the committees of resolutions and permanent organization. There was a parade in which Charles F. Murphy and other Tammany braves marched at the head of the camp followers. All these things took time, and when conferences began late tonight, it seemed more than possible that the slate would not be written until tomorrow morning.

The candidates themselves are puzzled and tired. Representative William Sulzer says that he is losing no strength. Representatives James S. Havens is still sure that he cannot lose. His managers said tonight that he would enter the convention tomorrow with the delegates to elect him safely pledged. Edward M. Shepard said everything he had heard today continued to encourage him.

But laying aside all speculation the situation in short comes back to this—What will Murphy do?

It was generally believed that he would try his best to make good his promise of conciliating up-State sentiment, but that if he found it impossible to consolidate that sentiment he would jam through his own preference.

HUDSON STEAMERS SOLD.

Purchased by Norfolk Banker at Auction Yesterday for $75,000.

New York, Sept. 29—The two Hudson river steamers Frank Jones and Saratoga, the property of the New York and Albany Transportation Company, were sold at auction today under orders of the Federal courts for $75,000, the purchaser being Richard B. Fentress, a banker of Norfolk, Va.

Today's sale nominally ended a long litigation involving the New York and Albany Transportation Company, although formal notice was given at the sale that the purchaser at a previous sale held on July 27, 1909, would appeal from the finding of the United States district court in ordering a re-sale of the boats.

The new purchaser admitted to holding some of the old bonds of the corporation and was thought to have acted in the interest of the old bondholders. He insisted, however, that he had bought the two steamboats on his own account and was undecided whether to take them South or leave them in the Hudson river for next season's service.

ACCEPTED TIME IS THE PRESENT

Contest Has Really Only Started With Special Offer Which is Now in Progress.

THE STANDING ON SUNDAY

Owing to illness of the bookkeeper in the Contest Department of the Star, it was found impossible to publish the list of the names and the vote of each contestant today. However, a complete list will appear in Sunday's issue with the number of votes each contestant has to her credit up to this evening therefore it is important that all who have votes to their credit should send them in this morning in order that they may appear in the count.

Now is the time to secure subscriptions. Never again will subscriptions count for as many votes as they do right now, and until the 8th of October. Every club of $30 in new subscriptions, means 35,000 extra votes to the contestant and it will certainly be an easy matter for every contestant to secure extra votes on this offer.

These $30 subscriptions must not necessarily be turned into the office at one time, but a contestant may turn in one subscription at a time or in any manner to suit his or her convenience, and as soon as they have received $30 in subscriptions to their credit they will have the extra coupon for 35000 votes.

Never again will an offer like this be put on in connection with the popular contest, and now is the time for every contestant who wants to win a prize, to exert every effort to secure a large number of reserve votes

If a contstant has a subscription and desires to hold the votes back so that they will not appear in the paper, they may hand the subscriptions into the contest department at any time it suits their convenience, and receive a coupon calling for the number of votes to which they are entitled. They may hold this coupon out until the last day of the contest if they so desire, and until it is returned to this office, the votes will not appear in the paper. This enables the contestants to have the paper started to the subscribers immediately, and still not show anyone their strength in the contest.

The contest is really just beginning this week, as last Monday was the opening day of the special offer, and any others who are contemplating entering should do so now, and have the same advantage as the ones already entered. Those who do not care for their names to appear in the list should notify the Contest Department.

This extra vote offer has been put on in order to give the contestants who are in the contest now, the advantage over any others who may decide to enter later on.

Contestants are not confined to secure just one club, but as soon as one club of $30 in subscriptions has been sent in, they should start on another club and secure two or more if possible.

DR. LUCAS ENDORSED.

Capt. Paddison Writes of His Qualifications for Legislature.

Point Caswell, N. C., Sept. 28th.

Editor Star:—I notice in your issue of today that Dr. Lucas will be a candidate for the Legislature from this county. I fully indorse all the nice things you said about him. This is a critical period in the history of Pender county. What she needs most is a bond issue for public improvements of $100,000 and a good strong stock law to protect our forest lands from the miserable razor back hogs and roaming cattle, both of which Dr. Lucas stands for, and if he is elected we will get This will put Pender county in the front rank of the progressive counties of the State. A good stock law will enhance the value of the farm lands more than a million dollars within the next thirty years.

TRIAL OF HASKELL ENDS.

Unable to Make Out Case Against Governor of Oklahoma.

McAlestern, Okla., Sept. 29.—The trial of Governor Haskell, of Oklahoma, in the Muskogee town lots cases came to a sudden end today when the government announced that under the restrictions laid down by the court, it would be unable to make out a case against Haskell or of any of his co-defendants.

Gov. Haskell and three other defendants were charged in an indictment returned by a Federal grand jury with "conspiracy to defraud the government" in the disposal of town lot sites at Muskogee, Okla. The dismissal of all of the cases today was attributed by the government attorneys of their inability to confine their proof to the period of limitation as fixed by Federal Judge John A. Marshall.

Judge Marshall ruled that under a recent Circuit Court of Appeals decision the prosecution would have to prove conscious participation by Haskell with the other defendants during the three years prior to the return of the indictment, which was in May, 1909.

S. R. Rush, special assistant to the Attorney General, said as the alleged conspiracy had taken place in 1902 much of the evidence secured by the government related to acts committeed before the statute of limitation as fixed by the court. The government, therefore, asked that the case be noll prossed.

Judge Marshall said that the Circuit Court of Appeals decision under which he was bound to rule, was in some points at variance with his own views, but he had no alternative.

Governor Haskell said he was confident he would be eliminated from the case.

Vessels From Southern Ports Are No Longer Inspected in New York.

New York, Sept. 29.—The New York harbor quarantine on vessels from Southern ports, annually put into effect on May 1st and continued through the Summer when danger of the spreading of the fever contagion is greatest will be discontinued on October 1st. Notice to this effect was given by Health Officer Doty. The date for the discontinuance of a month earlier than has been the rule for years past, the general absence of contagious disease epidemics in the Southern territory justifying the selection of the earlier date in the opinion of the health officer.

IN PROSPEROUS COLUMBUS

Diversity of County's Products Wonderful—Mr. Meares to Speak—Morning Star Contest—Schools to Open.

(Special Star Corespondence.)

Whiteville, N. C., Sept. 29.—The scuppernong war quieted down somewhat yesterday and grapes sold for $1.25 per bushel. Columbus is certainly a wonderful county, and no other section can produce such a number of money crops in a year. First comes strawberries, then tobacco, then grapes followed by cotton, and af all these crops, cotton at even 15 cents per pound is the least profitable.

Next Monday will be a great day in Whiteville. Mr. Iredell Meares will open his campaign here, and attract the Republican conorus. Then a great good roads meeting will be held in the interest of the Charlotte-Wilmington highway, and it is intended to organize to begin work without delay. Some property is also to be sold. It is expected that an unusually large crowd will be in Whiteville.

On October 12th, the Burkhead property, embracing four acres on Madison avenue, the Main street between the court house and Vineland, will be cut up into lots and sold at auction. This is the first step toward greater Whiteville. The work of paving the streets will soon start.

If the Morning Star contest creates as much interest in other counties as it does in Columbus, the subscriptions of your paper will be largely increased. A number of our nicest young ladies are contestants and they are all working like beavers. One said yesterday that she had the promise of five new yearly subscribers for the Star, and did not intend to stop until she had at least 25, as she was determined to win one of the prizes.

A number of travelling men are now stopping off at Whiteville, and merchants are greatly encouraged over the business outlook. Farmers have more cash than ever before known, and the cotton crop will be almost clear profit.

The Whiteville High School has taken in hand the Lyceum course and a number of fine entertainments have been secured. It is intended to devote the proceeds toward improving the school and adding a library. Dr. W. H. Crowell, chairman of the Board of Trustees, is one of the most indefatigable worker and is laboring hard to build up one of the finest schools in the State in Whiteville. They want to add a large dormitory, for boarding pupils.

HOOKWORM IN BLADEN.

What Has Been Accomplished by Dr. N. P. Liles—Lecture.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Elizabethtown, N. C., Sept. 29.—That Bladen is elligible to the hookworm class has been fully demonstrated by Dr. N. P. Liles, who has been making a study of the disease here for several months. Dr. Liles is not a graduate, but has been practicing here under Dr. Robinson and he has won for himself quite a reputation. His friends will regret to see him leave. He goes the first of October to complete his study at the University of Virginia.

Dr. Liles has had 38 tests made by the State Laboratory of Hygiene and only two failed to show positive infection and his treatment of them has been satisfactory except a few that required the second treatment. So great interest is being manifested in the vicinity, Dr. Liles was invited to lecture on the hookworm a few days ago under the auspices of the W. O. W., and the Farmers' Union at Dublin, N. C.

He exhibited two patients, two little brothers, and though only two weeks had passed since treatment it was plainly apparent that a great benefit had been done. Only recently he circulated lots of circulars sent him by the State Board, and he says the people are coming to him most every day for the treatment. So popular is the disease that one rarely ever hears of appendicitis nowadays.

FAVOR COMMISSION PLAN.

Mass-Meeting of Greensboro Citizens Inspect New Charter.

(Special to Charlotte Observer.)

Greensboro, Sept. 28.—The final and most interesting sections of the new charter providing for a commission form of government were disposed of by a well attended mass-meeting at the court house last night. The section which produced the greatest amount of debate was that providing regulation of rates for public service corporations. It was finally decided that where the board of commissioners and the public service company could not agree on the rates the facts should be cited to the State Corporation Commission which should be given power to decide. It was decided to have three commissioners, one of whom shall be the mayor, and it was agreed that the city should have the charter printed in pamphlet form and distributed to those citizens interested, also that after its pasage by the Legislature the citizens shall finally vote upon its adoption. There has been no antagonism to the commission form of government, the only differences of opinion being as to the nature of certain details.

ATTEMPTED JAIL DELIVERY

Assistant Jailer Set Upon in Raleigh Young Dixon Commissioned to Succeed His Father—Democratic Headquarters.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 29.—O. O. Green, assistant jailer, was set upon by a number of prisoners early this morning, the jail keys taken from him and he was locked in a cell while the prisoners hurriedly worked their way through various doors only to be held up at the outer door by Chief of Police Stell, who lives nearby and sprang from his bed, ran barefooted and in his night clothes, revolver in hand, to the aid of the jailer whose shouts for help he heard.

The leader of the attempted delivery was Acy Bunn, a notorious negro criminal who only yesterday was given a two years' sentence in Wake court for robbing the cash register of Julius Heller's shoe store here in the broad-open daylight. Bunn had hidden behind a bath tub and blanket that hung above it when the jailor entered the corridor thinking that all the men were in their cells. As he went to get some extra pans in which to serve breakfast to the prisoners Bunn sprang upon him from behind and some of the others came out to help in chucking the jailor into a cell and getting the keys. Then they began their work of assorting the keys to get out and had succeeded all the way to the outer door when the chief of police, who was for a number of years a deputy sheriff and assistant jailer, appeared and forced the prisoners back into their places at the point of his gun. It is probable that Judge Cooke will, before the court adjourns, increase the sentence of Bunn in consequence of his conduct this morning. At least the judge is to be asked to do this.

Governor Kitchin commissions Ben F. Dixon, Jr., State Auditor, to succeed his lamented father, Major B. F. Dixon. Col. Alex. J. Field, private secretary to the Governor, gave out the following statement tonight:

"In appointment to fill vacancy in the office of State Auditor, caused by the death of the late Dr. B. F. Dixon, the Governor's original purpose was to wait for the State Democratic Executive Committee to nominate a candidate and then appoint that candidate to fill the vacancy. Upon further consideration he realized that delay, even for a short time in filling the office, would embarrass the State's business, especially at the beginning of a month, since the State Treasurer cannot pay out any money except upon the warrant of the auditor. He has, therefore, decided to forthwith appoint Ben F. Dixon, Jr., who is not a candidate for nomination, to fill the vacancy until a State Auditor elected at the approaching November election can qualify."

The new State Auditor is a graduate of Trinity College, Class of 1903, and took the degree of M. A. and L.L. D. at Columbia University in 1906. He has been practicing law in Raleigh since last December.

Some lively campaigning has been going on in the State for the Executive Committee nomination for the office. Prominent candidates and men whose friends are urging them for the place on the State ticket are Major E. J. Hale Fayetteville; Capt. S. A. Ashe, Raleigh; Mr. Abbott, Greensboro, now auditor for the city of Greensboro; Capt. W. T. R. Bell, Rutherfordton; Leo D. Heart, Raleigh; Brown Pegram, retiring treasurer of Wake county; J. J. Bernard, retiring Register of Deeds of Wake county.

The Carolina Automobile Co., Charlotte, changes its name to the Rambler Automobile Co. O. A. Robbins is president. The Freeman Drug Co., is chartered with $5,000 capital for a drug business at Burlington. A. F. Barnett being the principal incorporator. Other charters issued are: Siler City Milling Co., capital $25,000 by J. M. Stout and others for grain milling and cotton ginning business; The Eno Hunting Club, (Inc.), Durham, W. T. Pollard and others, for social purposes, no capital. The Peter's Creek Union Milling Co., of Smith, Stokes county, capital $10,000 by W. M. Overby and others, for milling grain.

Editor R. F. Beasley, of the Monroe Journal, who is to assume the position of editor and dispenser of campaign literature and news for the State Democratic Headquarters here, spent today in Raleigh conferring with the State Chairman and will return here October 5th, to take up his work. He is confident of increased majorities for Democracy in the November elections.

The State Department of Insurance is notified of the conviction of Jim Echols on the charge of setting fire to the town prison at Lumberton. He was prosecuted by the Department of Insurance and this makes the 121st conviction for arson the Department has secured since it was established eight years ago.

Gen. B. S. Royster, of Oxford; Lieut. Col. P. J. Macon, Warrenton; Major W. C. Rodman, Washington, and Major L. W. Young, Asheville, are commissioned by Governor Kitchin, and will start at once to St. Louis as delegates from the North Carolina Nation Guard to the National Guard Association to be in session there October 3rd to 6th.

ROBERT R. BELLAMY.

THE WILMINGTON PRESS.

A Certain Index to the Progress of That Fine City.

Whiteville News Reporter.

You can always tell the prosperity of any town or city by its newspapers. When a town is down with the dry rot, the press show the ill effects, and drag out a miserable, hand-to-mouth existence. But when you see the newspapers of a place, expanding, increasing their plants and moving into larger quarters, it is a dead sure sign that said town has a double shume hustle on. And this is just what you now see in Wilmington.

For many years that city was looked upon as a grave-yard for newspapers, and laces with half the population supported its press better. Several years ago we asked a gentleman in Spartanburg, who was engaged in the cotton business in Wilmington, what kind of place it was. He repied, "Well, Gantt,-Wilmington is a great, big, over-grown dead town."

But within the last twelve months we never saw newspapers come out like the Morning Star and Evening Dispatch have done. There is no place in the South, with the population of Wilmington, that can now show two more creditable daily papers. The Star has expanded in every direction, and is now looked upon as one of the leading papers of the South. And the Dispatch is right along side its morning contemporary. The enterprising proprietor of that fine afternoon daily has recently built and moved into a fine new up-to-date office building, and greatly improved his paper.

We congratulate Wilmington on the growth and prosperity of its press, for it is a certain pointer to the upbuilding of that city. We never knew papers to come out so, and we have watched such matters for lo, these many years. The get-up and-git of the daily press of Wilmington tells the world that the city is moving to the front, and a great future is now breaking on the place.

We lift our hat to the Star and Dispatch, and give three cheers and a tiger for Greater Wilmington.

Remedies are Needed

Were we perfect, which we are not, medicines would not often be needed. But since our systems have become weakened, impaired and broken down through indiscretions which have gone on from the early ages, through countless generations, remedies are needed to aid Nature in correcting our inherited and otherwise acquired weaknesses. To reach the seat of stomach weakness and consequent digestive troubles, there is nothing so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, a glyceric compound, extracted from native medicinal roots—sold for over forty years with great satisfaction to all users. For Weak Stomach, Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Pain in the Stomach after eating, Heartburn, Bad Breath, Belching of food, Chronic Diarrhea and other Intestinal Derangements, the "Discovery" is a time-proven and most efficient remedy.

The genuine has on its outside wrapper the Signature R. V. Pierce M.D.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic, medicine OF KNOWN COMPOSITION, not even though the urgent dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate and invigorate stomach, liver and bowels. Sugar-coated, tiny granules, easy to take as candy.

Friday, September 30, 1910.

Probably what Senator Gore said about his party in Texas way back yonder was his opinion when he didn't know as much as he knows now.

The United States Treasury announces that "there will be no shortage of money in the United States this Fall.' In order to keep the treasurer form being a prevaricator so far as we are concerned, bring us some money and save his reputation.

The cigarette smoker, he pays the revenue tax, and if he doesn't believe it let him look in his pack of cigarettes and see if the manufacturers are not giving him fewer "coffin tacks" for his money. The consumer goes right on getting consumed.

A Boston man turned to gaze at a lady wearing a hobble skirt. Continuing to go forward while looking backward he fell over an embankment and broke his leg. Of course, he blames the hobble skirt but ladies will wonder where the rubber-neck comes in

Remarks the Salisbury Post: "The safe of a Georgia editor was burglarized and $12.00 stolen." This shows that the editor had money on hand but we are prepared to believe the burglar would have goten more if the editor hadn't made a recent payment on his automobile.

The New York Old Guard William Barnes, Jr., and others, have announced that they will stick to the party under Roosevelt's bossism. They are professional politicians and that subserviency is expected of a class of men who are in politics for plunder and not patriotism nor principle..

A socialist is being sued by his wife because of non-support. It seems that he is a millionaire and didn't believe in the socialistic doctrine to the extent of an equal distribution of wealth with his beter half. A man who has as much money as he has could afford not to be a socialist.

Roosevelt's New York platform is not progressive in the right direction. It is mainly standpat and so largely froth that it covers up the real issue through which consumers hope to secure relief. It has a progressive label but the contents are gilded playthings for protectionists.

In Pennsylvania a negro who stole a banana was sent to the penitentiary for two years. Grafters who came very nearly stealing Pennsylvania's $10,000000 State House while it was being built, go unwhipped of justice. Evidently there is a strong sentiment in Pennsylvania for punishment of a thief so common that he would swipe a banana while Coutn de Banan was n't looking.

Elijah Crockett, an aged Charlotte negro charged with a crime which would have sent him to the penitentiary for 20 years, could not employ a lawyer to defend him. In desperate straits he decided to defend himself, so, lawyer like, he examined the witnesses waded out before the jury and entertained them some. Col. Jake Newell was the attorney for the prosecution, but the jury, probably considering that circumstance as favorable to the defendant, "turned the darkey loose." The dusky spectators grinned, but colored individuals generally should not imitate the old Charlotte darkey with the expectation of saving themselves. The Charlotte jury may have been well acquainted with Uncle Elijah, and besides an acquittal might have been considered proper pay for an exhilerating spectacle.

TEDDY'S CAPTURE.

The egotistic and inconsistent Roosevelt is complete master of Republicanism in New York. He has waded in and captured the complete organization while the Taft influence has been an unknown quantity throughout the proceedings which culminated in the action of the State Republican Convention at Saratoga on Tuesday and Wednesday. It doesn't take even an intelligent person to observe what an exceedingly small amount of ice was cut by the Taft Administration and its friends at that Convention. His friends of the "Old Guard" were snowed under at every turn and thus Taft permitted the fate of the Republican party in New York to fall into the hands of the man with the Big Stick.

The whole truth is, Taft sat supinely at Oyster Bay and allowed Roosevelt to run amuck and not only dominate New York Republicanism, but to take over into his own hands the very fate of Taft. Roosevelt's capture of the convention and the party organization for the next two years placed it absolutely in the power of Roosevelt to say whether the convention would or should endorse Taft's administration during the past 18 months or it made it possible for him to dictate the maner of endorsement that he desired the convention to make. Taft's own prospects for renomination in 1912 therefore are held in the hollow of the hand of Roosevelt, and Taft took no steps of a vigorous or determined nature to prevent it or else trusted it to the impotent party bosses who were justly and righteously repudiated by the convention.

Notwithstanding all this, President Taft announces that he is "pleased" with what the convention did. Indeed, it seems that everything pleases Taft. He is on record as being satisfied with everything good or bad that is done. Apparently he is so easy to please that he would eat raw doughnuts and pronounce them fine—the best ever, equal in superiority to the Aldrich-Payne tariff bill which he swallowed and has not yet been able to digest. Taft either is no politician, is extremely politic, or lacks backbone and prefers to run away from a fight. He has had the finest opportunity any man ever had to show that he is made out of the real stuff but he tamely let it slip.

In more than one instance Taft could have shown his hand, called the bluff and been all the stronger, but he didn't. He could have beaten Roosevelt at his own game and secured his own renomination without placing himself under obligations to Theodore Roosevelt, but he didn't. Now he has to endorse everything that Roosevelt does and will have to depend upon him for a renomination unless Roosevelt wants it himself. He is completely at the mercy o' the Big Stick. He secured his nomination for President because it was in Roosevelt's power to select his successor, and with all that power latterly his own, to secure his own renomination, President Taft actually has allowed Roosevelt, on the outside of the White House, to insidiously place himself in a position to generously give Taft a renomination or sent him adrift, just as it suits the Big Boss. If it is all the result of a real understanding between Roosevelt and Taft it would indicate in the President a political cunning that is not suspected, but if the situation has resulted because Taft couldn't help himself it has been the result of Taft's amiability or weakness—which?

Roosevelt's triumph in having himself made temporary chairman of the Saratoga convention on Tuesday, was followed up on Wednesday by his dictation of the platform and the nominee for Governor in the person of former United States District Attorney Harry L. Stimson of New York City, who was placed in nomination by the Rough Rider boss himself. That may be nothing against Mr. Stimson himself, however able and fit a gubernatorial candidate he may be, but it shows the utterness of the Roosevelt political dictatorship. That is not all. The Rough Rider dictated the platform and it is peculiarly Rooseveltian. It contains his platitudes expressed in buncombistic epigrams. Having it within his power to have the convention fully and completely endorse the administration of Taft and logically endorse him for the renomination in 1912, Dictator Roosevelt saw fit to briefly, as alleged, "enthusiastically endorse the progressive and statesmanlike leadership of William Howard Taft and declare our pride in the achievements of his first 18 months as President of the United States."

Take notice that Roosevelt wouldn't go any further than limiting the endorsement to 18 months. Also take notice that any mention of 1912 was studiously avoided. There could be but two reasons for that. One is that an endorsement of Taft for the renomination would have made Taft an issue in this campaign, which may not have been desirable or politically wise at this time.

The other reason is that Roosevelt prevented endorsement so the field could be left open if he should take a notion to secure the nomination for himself. The fact is there is no reason why any ordinary Republican convention should not have endorsed Taft for the renomination. It is customary to allow a President two terms and if Taft's administration is worthy of endorsement practically for two years of his term there could have been no reason why the New York convention should not have endorsed him for renomination like other State conventions already have done. Therefore, the only reason why the New York convention was not permitted to even hint an endorsement of Taft in 1912 is Roosevelt's own reason.

The New York platform caters to a sentiment that is widespread and militant in this country. It but follows the trend of an insistent public demand and by no means leads in propositions of reforms that the people have risen in their own might to demand in their own interest from a dominant party which has existed through and for special iterests and under whose administrations conditions requiring reforms have been created. The Roosevelt platform takes the crest of a wave that was already rolling high before he saw the opportunity to get in the game.

It is significant that Big Boss Roosevelt called in as his first lieutenant, in dominating New York Republicanism and promulgating reforms, former United States Senator Elihu Root, who has been the attorney for more trusts than any lawyer of the American bar. It was Root and John E. Parsons, another reformer, who drew the deed for the Sugar Trust some years ago. No doubt the voters in New York will take notice that it is impossible for the Republican party to get away from itself and men of the Root type. The Roosevelt convention endorsed the Aldrich tariff and that was the worst thing it did against real reform.

ADVERTISING THE SOUTH.

Few people in the South but faintly realize its immense resources and possibilities. Those who do recognize the splendid opportunities in the Southern States, and especially in North Carolina, have only a faint conception of the vast development of which this section is capable along a hundred lines. industrially and agriculturally. In fact, we do not know our own country ourselves, and those who do know in a certain way do not think it is of sufficient importance to let the world know that we have unlimited opportunities in North Carolina. We might say that certainly people abroad do not know, and probably our indisposition to let them know is based on the asumption that they ought to know as much about it as we do.

There are thousands upon top of thousands of people in the United States who are perfectly ignorant of the resources of North Carolina and the scores of opportunities here for capital, labor, homeseekers and investors. Publicity is the only means by which we posibly can let it be known to the world what are the attractions in this State, with its resources and and advantages outnumbering those of any other State in the Union. Some people do not realize this, and while many do realize it they do nothing to attract people and capital to the various sections of the State.

There are different kinds of publicity and one of them is now being utilized by the Southern Railway for the benefit of the sections and States penetrated by its lines. The Southern Railway Company has arranged to display produets portraying Southern resources and opportunities and is to hold these exhibitions in various Northern cities under the auspices of that railroad's Land and Industrial Department. One of these exhibitions is to be a distinct feature of the "National Land and Irrigation Exposition" to be held at Duquesne Garden, Pittsburg, on October 17 to October 29. There are to be exhibits of agricultural products in great variety and attractive printed matter containing a wide scope of information is to be distributed to the thousands of people who are expecting to attend the exposition.

The exposition is backed by two Pittsburg daily papers and they announce that it will be the most comprehensive show of its kind ever held in this country. It is announced that the Southern is making an exhibit at Pittsburg because the "back to the farm" movement has taken root in the densely populated district around Pittsburg where farmers are being driven out of their fields by the encrouchments of mines, oil wells and factories of various kinds.

Pittsburg is a city of 565,000 population and within a radius of 40 miles it is estimated that there are 2,500,000 people. It is to reach these people that the Southern Railway will make an exhibit and it has gone to them with the goods instead of inviting them to come to its territory. The show has been extensively advertised throughout Pennsylvania and the railroads have given such reduced rates as will be sure to attract thousands of visitors to the show.

The Southern Railway is doing an effective and vigorous work towards settling people along its lines. Its Land and Industrial Department is admirably equipped to make a comprehensive exhibit showing the opportunities that await the settler along its lines in the southeast. Mr. M. V. Richards, land and industrial agent for the Southern, will be in charge of the exhibit and it is his purpose to make the very best possible display, feeling that through the Pittsburg show he will reach just the people whom the South wishes to attract. The Pittsburg "National and Irrigation Exposition," popularly known as "Pittsburg's Big Land Show," has its offices in the Keystone Building, Pittsburg, and in addition to the exhibit by the Southern Railway, the exposition company is endeavoring to secure a number of exhibits from chambers of commerce, boards of trade and other organizations in the South, interested in the development of this section.

It is a fortunate chamber of commerce or board of trade that has anything to exhibit, but it is not too late for us to take the hint that, where it is possible, such organizations in the South should have their own permanent exhibits at home so they can move on a broader field for exhibition when they are invited to do so on such occasions as that at Pittsburg in October. It is a pity that the whole of eastern North Carolina is not prepared to make a good showing at Pittsburg.

Cotton is late this year but no doubt the prices will keep.

When the next Congress meets Uncle Joe may be the only relict of by-gone days to be seen in the House.

"Every tub must stand on its own bottom." If it doesn't Roosevelt will kick its hoops off and tell it something it should have known before.

If a renomination for President in 1912 keeps on geting harder to secure, President Taft may decide that he doesn't care very much about it anyway.

Probably Morehead and Butler wouldn't be willing to explain to us that "local self-government" means a certain kind of "ward politics" as well as "local option."

Lawyers are paid to disagree but when Democratic voters in North Carolina disagree they have to take what is coming to them from Marion Butler's Pandora box.

The best reason why every white North Carolinian should vote against the Republican party is what that party has done to North Carolina eveery time it got in power. Ain't it so white folks?

A contemporary remarks: "The Sultan of Sulu gets credit for having 14 wives!" Well, at present high prices, we don't see how in the name of goodness he can take care of that bunch unless he did get credit.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Durham Democrats are moving to make General Carr speaker of the House. Second the motion. He is not only entitled to the honor, but he will make a most capable officer.—Greensboro Record.

Maine is not going to the dogs. We see by the columns of the Maine Farmer that the agricultural element is interested mainly in the same things as before the pesky Democrats were voted into power.—Boston Herald.

A Republican writing to the Raleigh Times wants to know what warrant the Democratic papers have for saythat Butler is interested in the collection of those fradulent bonds. The Times tells him in no uncertain way towit: by quoting Butler's sworn testimony in a hearing in an investigation. This ought to hold the gentleman. Everybody that has merely glanced at the matter knows Butler's object, primarily, is to colect these bonds and no man knows better than he that they are fradulent.—Greensboro Record.

The little Radical spielers are running about the State denouncing the Democratic Party in one breath for spending too much money and in the next breath denouncing it because it does not spend enough! That's Radical inconsistency. It abuses the Democratic party for spending too much on schools and then promises if it wins to spend more. It is easy to make promises, but voters remember that when the Republicans were in power their legislators stole the school fund to pay their extravagant per diem.—Raleigh News and Observer.

At Moundville, W. Va., the pupils of a negro school were dismissed before closing hours of the school, in order that they might see moving pictures of the fisticuff at Reno, in which Johnson defeated Jeffries. The principal of the school explains that his object was not to have the children exult over the negro's victory at the expense of the white man, but to impress upon them what members of their race may accomplish through the exercise of perseverence, skill and pluck.

The story suggests opportunities to makers of moving picture films to be found in South Carolina among negro youths who display expert skill in picking cotton. Sometimes a negro girl or boy may pick as much as 300 pounds in a day, and that is an achievement in every way more worthy than was the deed of Jack Johnson. Besides. the cotton field will offer, by far, a prettier picture than will any scene in Reno, Nevada. If the teachers of negro schools in the Northern States are resolved to have picture that will inspire their pupils in ambitious endeavor, it is certain that cotton picking films would prove immensely popular.—Columbia State.

The New York bankers are boasting that they have plenty of money to take care of the Southern coton crop, without being required to call in the aid of foreign capital. There is no doubt about the fact that they have the money and there is no doubt about the further fact that they have planned to make big profits on it by requiring stiff rates for its loan to the Southern banks. It is probable that that they will not find this such an easy proposition, for the Southern bankers have some money of their own in addition to resources outside of New York. In the course of an article on the attitude of the New York bankers, The Journal of Commerce says that "according to information received from the South, it is evident that the powerful banking combination in New York, when it comes to financing bankers in that section are not going to allow themselves to be squeezed by the cotton crop. They have, it is understood, already enlisted the support of French capitalists: and under these circumstances the Southern banks will not be under the complete domination of New York financiers. Private advices received here by cotton men state that the local bankers do not propose to stand for being squeezed by the Eastern institutions. Should the New York banks demand high rates of interest funds will probably be forcoming from other sources." The Southern bankers will be, no doubt, able to command the situation.—Charlotte Chronicle.

BIG OPENING AT REHDER'S

Popular Department Store Crowded Yesterday With an Admiring Throng—Beautiful Display of Hats.

"Oh, Mr. Rehder, this is the finest display I have yet seen. It is simply lovely, beautiful, magnificent—surpassing the display of hats ever before seen here!"

Such were the exclamations of enthusiastic admiration to Mr. Rehder, of J. H. Rehder & Co's, big department store, on North Fourth street by delighted ladies every time he entered the millinery department yesterday, and that was frequently. The occasion was the annual Fall opening of the large and popular department store, and while the greatest interest centered in the millinery display the other departments were also visited and inspected. The opening will continue through today and it is expected that the store will again be crowded from early in the morning until 7 o'clock this evening, the closing hour.

The millinery department was artistically and beautifully decorated with ferns, palms, Southern smilax and white and pink crepe paper—carrying out the color scheme of pink and white most admirably. The decorations blended most harmoniously and perfectly with the wealth of the latest creations that Dame Fashion has decreed shall be used as headgear this season. Miss Sarah Gardner, who has been with the firm for eleven seasons, is again in charge of the millinery department and her wide experience is abundantly shown in the scope and variety of her selection. In prices the hats are equal to the demands of all customers from the one of exclusive taste to the one of modest requirements. Some of the most beautiful pattern hats in this section may be found here. There are more than 500 of these and each represents a distinctive type or shape. The hats are most attractively arranged and they immediately catch the eye and fancy of the shopper, and a large number of purchases were made yesterday. Shoppers now realize that it is the wise thing to purchase before the leaving the store, the hat they see on display that is especially becoming to them and strikes their fancy, for otherwise it will most likely be the property of some one else within a short time, and they will then be forced to take a substitute there being no duplicates.

The Helmet Jean de Arc, very often trimmed with Persian, is one of the leading shapes this season. Beavers and turbans are right much in demand, especially the latter, the new Marie Antoinette or Empress Josephine turbans being very becoming to most people. They are trimmed with silver or gold lace with feather bands. The Watteau, a picture hat, made of black velvet, faced with pink satin, trimmed with willow plumes and lace handeau, is also very popular. The department carries a large assortment of black hats, for both mourning and dress and many sales of these were made yesterday. The plush, in both rough and soft finishes, which comes in all shades, seems to be especially popular this season, judging from the number that were sold yesterday. In a word, the millinery department is complete in every respect and no greater variety of hats can be found elsewhere in Wilmington than are shown right here at this justly popular establishment. Those not bent on buying, but like to look around will gain delight by a visit to this department today. If they leave without making a purchase it won't be because they were not simply charmed with the magnificent display of headgear.

Not only did the ladies of the city turn out en masse for the first day of the opening, but a large number came from neighboring towns in every direction from Wilmington. Some heavy purchases were made by ladies from points many miles distant, almost to Goldsboro in one direction. The trade to this popular store from surrounding towns is ever on the increase nand many are expected to purchase all of their Fall and Winter goods here.

Mr. Rehder ordered a large supply of attractive souvenirs to be given to those in attendance upon the opening, but unfortunately they did not arrive in time to be distributed among those present yesterday. However, they arrived last evening and each visitor to the department today will be given a reminder of the 1910 Fall opening of the store.

While the millinery department was the main feature of the opening the other departments were not neglected by the shoppers. Every department is complete and the goods on display are most attractive. In the dress goods department were shown Persian silks and Beuclay suitings which are having a special run this season, as well as the many other kinds and grades of dress goods. The firm is still has the agency for the celebrated Kirshbaum custom made clothing for men, and the Fall styles were on display. The shoe department is well stocked and the footwear was attractively exhibited. The firm handles the Crawford custom made shoe for men and the well known Dolly Madison shoe for women.

Music is being furnished during the opening which adds greatly to the occasion that fairly delights the hearts of the ladies. The store will remain open today until 7 P. M.

THE STEAMER WILMINGTON.

Goes to Charleston Tomorrow to be Overhauled—Party Going.

To receive a thorough overhauling, the steamer Wilmington, Capt. John W. Harper, will leave tomorrow for Charleston, S. C. where she will go on a marine railway for a few days. The steamer will be away from port about five days, arriving at Charleston Sunday morning.

Now that the heavy Summer passenger traffic on the river is over, the steamer has an opportunity to receive the necessary overhauling as required each season. During the absence of the Wilmington the tug Blanche, Capt. Sanders, will make the scheduled daily trips to Southport and return.

A party will go from Wilmington and Southport as the guests of Capt. Harper, to visit a few days in the South Carolina city and those who have "signed-up" for the trip are Miss Kate Stuart, of Southport, Capt. M. T. Craig, Capt. E. H. Aukins, Mr. H. A. Kure, and Constable "Tuck" Savage. In addition to providing accomodations for his guests and the regular crew, in charge of Mate "Bud" Mintz, Capt. Harper stated yesterday that there are still two cots left that can be secured by "desirables." Capt. W. H. Northrop, Jr., the traffic manager, will be the only one of the "steamer force" left to manage affairs while the Wilmington is away.

STEAMER DUPLIN RAISED.

Arrived in Port Yesterday for Repairs. Sunk Last Week.

The river steamer Duplin, Capt. D. J. Stokes, that sunk last week at Broadwater Landing on the Northeast river, has been raised by the Diamond Steamboat & Wrecking Company and arrived in port yesterday under her own steam for repairs.

The steamer was docked at Skinner's marine railway yesterday afternoon. The steamer sunk at a lumber mill, where she was receiving cargo of shingles, and the wrecking company experienced much difficulty in raising her. She was raised the first part of the week, but after she was gotten to the surface some of the fastenings broke and she sank for the second time. The cabin and other parts of the steamer are slightly damaged.

Capt. Stokes says the steamer will be ready to receive freight for the up trip Saturday morning.

DRAINAGE COMMISSIONERS.

Land Owners Voted in Lyon Swamp District—Returns Are Slow.

Commissioners to supervise the drainage work to be commenced some time soon in the Lyon swamp district, of Pender and Bladen counties, will be announced within the next few days, according to the vote of the landowners in the district the past week. The returns which have not all been received, indicate that Messrs. D. J. Corbett, Jr., C. W. Worth and B. F. Keith will be the three commissioners chosen. The work will be done by contract and bids will be invited as soon as the commissioners are announced.

AFTER THE TIGERS AGAIN

Chief of Police Begins Campaign Against Violators of Prohibition Law With Result That Eight Arrests Are Made.

Something akin to a sensation was created last night about 9:45 o'clock, when the police arrested eight persons, seven white and one colored, charged either with violating the State prohibition law or the near-beer ordinance of the City of Wilmington. The wholesale arrests last night came as the result of the employment recently by Chief of Police Williams of two special men for the ferreting out of violations—Mr. Lang Sellers, recently a special health officer, and Mr. D. T. Mayer, a well known painter.

The following are those charged with selling whiskey, location of their places of business, and dates alleged sale to Messrs. Sellers and Mayer: J. J. Farrow, near-beer dealer on Water street; two cases, sales alleged to have been made on September 29th; D. N. Stanly, grocer, at Second and Market, September 29th; W. H. Miller, Seventh and Nixon, September 27th; Will Woebse, Eight and Nixon, September 27th; Jack Watters, Sixth and Castle, September 23rd; Snoden Harris, colored, who conducts a restaurant at Sixth and Campbell streets, September 28th. Warrants charging violation of the near-beer ordinance by selling near-beer without license were served on the following: Chas. Richter, Fourth and Harnett, two bottles, September 27th; W. H. Miller, three bottles, Seventh and Nixon, September 27th; Will Woebse, Eighth and Nixon, three bottles, September 27th; Harry Crain, Tenth and Grace, six bottles, September 28th; J. J. Farrow, Water street, September 29th. As will be noted some of the defendants are charged with both violating the city ordinance and the prohibition law.

News of the arrest spread very rapidly and in a short time there was a large crowd at the City Hall, some being called there to sign bonds for the defendants, all of whom were released on bonds of $200 each for appearance at trial before the Recorder at 11 o'clock this morning. The bondsmen are: For W. H. Miller, Mr. J. A. Westbrook; for Harry Crain, Mr. Ralph Kennedy; for John J. Farrow, John W. Gafford, Esq.; for D. N. Stanly, A. J. Marshall, Esq.; for Chas. Richter, Mr. H. W. Konig; for W. N. Woebse, W. H. Woebse, his father; Snoden Harris, colored, John W. Gafford, Esq.

The warrants against the defendants were sworn out yesterday before Recorder John J. Furlong by members of the police force upon information furnished by the two men employed to run down the "tigers." Last night Chief of Police Williams and Assistant Chief of Police Woolard handed the warrants to Officers D. W. Coleman, W. G. Brinkley, T. M. Hall and J. S. Lane and all were executed about 9:45 o'clock. As all the arrests were made about the same time the patrol wagon could not very well gataer them all in without some delay, at least two of the defendants were taken down in an automobile, while those from the downtown district were "walked" to the hall. The automobile pressed into service was not provided by the officers, however, being furnished by a friend of the defendants. Then an automobile was used by friends of the defendants to bring bondsmen to the City Hall and within an hour all had arranged their bonds and released until 11 o'clock this morning.

The arrests of the defendants is in accordance with plans laid by Chief of Police Williams, with the approval of other officials of the city, some two or three weeks ago, when Messrs. Sellers and Mayer were employed to run down any places where it was thought the law was being violated. They have been on the job for the past two weeks, and as was probably noted, did not confine their operations to any particular locality. Other warrants may be served during the day, but the police would not say that there were any additional cases.

GREGORY NORMAL INSTITUTE.

Opens Monday Morning for the Fall Term.—Announcement.

The Gregory Normal Institute, a well known colored institution at the corner of Seventh and Nun streets, will open Monday, October 3rd, for the Fall term. Prof. Frank B. Stevens, principal, makes the following announcement:

"All deficiency and entrance examinations will be held Monday and Tuesday, and students, both old and new, will be assigned to their respective grades. Especial attention this year will be given to the work of the domestic science, and manual training departments.

"Scientific agriculture and experimental gardening will be emphasized and the work of students carefully noted and graded for special skill and efficiency therein. Government bulletins from experimental stations will be largely used in this work.

"A new department for work in experimental physics and chemistry will be added this year.

"We are looking forward to an unusually large attendance, and an exceptionally good year's work."

His Sister Missing.

A. J. Johnson, a respectable young colored man living at 713 Anderson street, this city, is much distressed at the strange disappearance of his sister, Eliza Johnson, 16 years old, a country girl, who had been visiting him in Wilmington the past two weeks. She was down town with him yesterday on Market between Front and Water streets and left for a moment to walk around the corner with another girl of her acquaintance. She left her companion to return to her brother around the corner and that was the last seen of her up to late yesterday evening. She is described as a little deformed in one side and her brother is anxious for information as to her whereabouts.

NEW PILOT BOAT.

The "Captain Cahill" Placed in Commission and Shows Up Well.

In marine circles yesterday the success which the new "opposition" pilots have had from their inception at Southport, was the subject of much remark, the occasion having been the recent successful launching of the new pilot boat and her first successful cruises, the "opposition" as they have been christened in marine circles having placed pilots in the first four vessels arriving in port.

The courage and endurance exhibited by pilots in the line of their duty is wonderful and competition very often brings out these qualities in the men of the sea to a degree little realized by the landsman. No weather seems to be too bad to forbid their going to board an incoming vessel and one of the first trips made by the new boat was one of the most exciting of the year, according to those from "below" yesterday. The crew of the new boat had notice that a steamer was due to arrive at the bar at a certain time. The Capt. Cahill, which is the name of the new pilot boat, 37 feet long, eight feet beam and three feet draft, was a latest up-to-date 24 H. P. Lamb engine, started from Southport at 10 P. M., to intercept the steamer. The Knox, in charge of the rival crew of pilots, considered the fastest boat on the coast, started immediately after the other craft, both going straight to sea. They held their course for the lightship, 38 miles away, off Frying Pan shoals. For three hours they raced side by side, the Capt. Cahill leading. The Capt. Cahill began to draw away from the Knox and as a light storm came up, she was soon lost sight of. After reaching the Lightship, they changed their sourse east and picked up the steamer at 9. A. M., 35 miles from the Lightship and about 60 miles from Southport.

This is only one incident of the strenuous life of the pilot. The new pilots' crew consists of Capt. J. J. Adkins, one of the oldest pilots on the coast; Capt. Hallie Adkins, who was associated with Capt. John W. Harper for a good many years; Capt. O. D. Burriss, also master of the steamer Wilmington for several years, and Capt. Joe Daniels, a familiar pilot on the river for years, a combination which will no doubt get their share of the business. This company is now fitting out the schooner Frances Elizabeth, one of the fastest pilot boats on the Atlantic coast with a new 40 H. P. Lamb engine at Skinner's marine railway. She will be used for long cruises in bad weather.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Nothing of Consequence Heard in Yesterday's Sitting.

In the Recorder's court yesterday morning Walter Guion and Mosely Brown, colored, were given hearing on the charge of affray, alleged to have occurred last Saturday night. Guion was found not guilty, but Brown was required to pay a fine of $10 and costs. L. Clayton Grant, Esq., appeared for Brown. O. Olsen, a sailor, was taxed with the costs for drunkenness. He had not paid the amount yesterday afternoon and will probably have to go to the roads. Boy Mitchell, colored, who has been before the courts of the county a number of times, was called to answer the charge of stealing a watch from Mr. G. W. Mills at his store Wednesday night, but the hearing was continued until today.

Two Others Been to Roads.

With reference to the statement in yesterday's paper implying that M. L. Winner had been the only white man convicted of selling whiskey in this county and sentenced to the roads since the advent of prohibition, it was stated at the office of the Recorder yesterday that two other white men had been sentenced to the roads, one serving his full time. The statement as published yesterday was that of well known and strong local prohibitionists, who were under the impression that no white man had done service on the roads in this county for selling whiskey. The two persons referred to above saw service for the county some months ago and the fact that they were given road sentences evidently escaped the memory of those quoted at the time. However, in case it becomes necessary to petition the Governor for a pardon for Winner the document will be largely signed, no doubt.

REVIVAL IN BROOKLYN CHURCH.

Rev. O. L. Powers Preaches Another Strong Sermon—Today.

The revival at Brooklyn Baptist Church is steadily growing in interest. Rev. O. L. Powers preached another powerful sermon last night and several professed faith in Christ, while a number of others expressed a desire to be saved. His theme was "Eternal Life by Believing on Jesus Christ," and this was developed in a most striking and appealing manner. Today the evangelist will preach at 3 P. M., on "The Second Mile." Tonight his theme will be "Excuses." The hour is 8 o'clock. The public is most cordially invited.

MRS. E. B. JORDAN DEAD.

Passed Away at Home of Daughter in Atlanta—Funeral Today.

Many friends in Wilmington and throughout this section of the State will hear with painful sorrow of the death of Mrs. E. B. Jordan, widow of the late E. B. MISS BESSIE RUSS BRIDE OF MR. ROBERT KYLE TURNER.

Of interest to many friends in this city and elsewhere, was the marriage at 6:15 o'clock, yesterday afternoon, of Miss Bessie Lee Russ, the attractive and popular daughter of Mr. J. S. Russ, and Mr. Robert Kyle Turner, formerly of this city, but now of Roanoke, Va. The ceremony was impressively performed at the home of the bride, on South Second street, by the Rev. Dr. John M. Wells, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. It was a very quiet home affair and there were no attendants. Only members of the immediate family of the bride and a few intimate friends of the couple witnessed the nuptial event. Mr. and Mrs. Turner left on the 7 o'clock train for Roanoke, where they will reside.

Mr. Turner has many friends in this city, where he resided until five or six years ago, when he moved to Roanoke to engage in business. The bride is a charming young lady, whose sweet disposition has won for her a wide circle of admiring friends, who regret that she is to make her home elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Samuel Brittain entertained at an enjoyable reception Thursday evening at their home, No. 110 Church street, in honor of the bride. A large number of the friends of the couple were present and the evening was spent very pleasantly.

Passed Away Last Night at Home of Her Son, Dr. W. E. Storm.

Friends of the bereaved family will sympathize with them in the death of Mrs. Hannah L. Storm, relict of the late George E. Storm, who passed away last night at 9 o'clock at the advanced age of 80 years, at the home of her son, Dr. W. E. Storm, No. 316 Ann street, where she had made her home for several years. Mrs. Storm's death was due more to the infirmities of one of her age than to any specific cause and for the past nine months had been practically an invalid. Nevertheless, the announcement of her death was a sad realization for the family and friends. Besides her son, Mrs. Storm is survived by her sister, Mrs. Parker, also of this city.

Reserved Decision Until Today.

The plaintiff was suing for $29 alleged to be due on a contract. He contends that Hilton gave Boyd a contract to do some work on a house; that the contract was sub-let to him for $78, and that he had received only $49 of the contract price. The defendants admitted that the contract was for $78, but claimed that the plaintiff had been paid $65, and also set up a counterclaim against the plaintiff for $13, the amount it is alleged will be necessary to complete the building in first-class condition. W. P. Mangum Turner, Esq., appeared for the defendants, while B. G. Empie, Esq. represented the plaintiff. Justice Burkheimer reserved his decision until this morning.

FRAUD SECRETS LAID BARE.

Witnesses Tell of Grafting—Swindled Illinois Central.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—A. O. Goodrich, a confessed go-between, and Henry C. Ostermann, formerly president of the Ostermann Manufacturing Company, for the prosecution, vied with each other before Municipal Judge Bruggemeyer today in stripping bare the secrets of the alleged combination which is charged with swindling the Illinois Central Railroad Company by car repair frauds.

Goodrich described in detail methods which he said Illinois Central officers used to conceal their identity as stockholders in the Ostermann repair concern. In testifying yesterday, Ostermann said that certain payments to the railroad officers were made by checks to Goodrich. When placed on the stand today, Goodrich began his testimony at this point.

"The checks were made out in my name," said Goodrich. "Frank B. Harriman, (one of the three defendants in the present case) had asked me some time previously if I would agree to let him have checks made out in my name and accept certain payments for him. I agreed. I do not know what sources the checks came from, but I received a number of them. I know, however, that they were issued by this company, of which I have been reading in the newspapers. I indorsed them and placed them to my private account in the Fort Dearborn National Bank."

Photographs of $35,000 worth of checks, signed by F. H. Niles, president of the Blue Island Car & Equipment Company, were then introduced by Attorney Fisher for the prosecution. Goodrich identified the indorsements on them as having been made by him. Niles went on the stand several days ago and testified that payments for Harrimann were made to Goodrich.

The name of Ira G. Rawn, late president of the Monon Railroad and formerly vice president of the Illinois Central Railroad, was again brought into the proceedings when Goodrich testified that on December 18, 1909 he wrote a check for $10,000 to Ira G. Rawn. The $10,000 check, he said, was in return for two $5,000 checks, which were sent to Goodrich on December 13th, and were signed by Niles.

In connection with the formation of the Memphis Car Repair Company, Osterman told how stock was issued and to whom. Two new names, those of H. H. McCourt, general superintendent of the Illinois Central lines south of the Ohio river and W. S. King, general superintendent of the Yazoo and Mississippi Valley Railroad Company, were mentioned by Ostermann in this connection.

"Stock was issued in certificates of 161 shares each in the Memphis Car Repair Company," said Ostermann. "This stock was divided among Ira G. Rawn, F. B. Harrimann, Joseph B. Buker, W. S. King, H. H. McCourt, William Renshaw, J. M. Taylor and Z. Y. Ward, of the Memphis Company. At the suggestion of Mr. Buker I had all the stock made out in my own name. I know that Rawn, Harrimann and Taylor got their shares, and I suppose the others did too."

The witness then went into a detailed history of the organization of the Memphis Car Repair Company. Later on Ostermann said he was told to issue stock to Mr. Rawn and Mr. Harrimann.

Ostermann then declared that car repair companies paid certain Illinois Central officials a bonus as high as $25 a car for each one sent to them for repairs and made "presents" of varying size to all grades of employes for vigilance in detecting and reporting "bad order" cars. He declares that the amount charged on each car by the repair companies was regulated directly by the Illinois Central officers interested in the alleged grafting.

LETTER FROM MRS. COOK

Entirely Recovered From Illness, and Now Growing Stronger Each Day.

Cave Springs, Ga.,—"I sleep better than ever," writes Mrs. Kate Cook from this place, "and get stronger every day. Before I tried Cardui, the woman's tonic, I was very sick, and the doctor's medicine did me no good. I can never speak too highly of your medicine."

Sleeplessness and nervousness, from which many women suffer, often make living unendurable.

If you are ailing, no need to stay so. Most of the ailments peculiar to women are preventable, curable.

Others have obtained relief by taking Cardui. Why not you?

Cardui is a popular medicine with women. It is popular because it has been found to banish nervousness, relieve pain, bring roses back to pale cheeks, and strength to weak bodies.

Cardui acts specifically on the cause of most female ills, and thus it is a medicine especially useful in women's ailments in the treatment of which it has a record of over 50 years of success.

At least it can do you no harm, to give Cardui a fair trial.

It may be the very medicine you need.

Get a bottle.

Theatrical

L. C. Whitney's effervescent "Show Girl" and her thirty-odd merry travelers, will sing and dance their way into the hearts of Wilmington theatregoers at the Academy tonight. It's Arabian Night stories tell of a magic cap which when worn grants the owner's wish. A faint gleam of the amount of fun it causes and the beautiful stage pictures it conjures may be gained by a statement that the cap is sold to the management of a show troupe which has met financial reverses while on an international tour. A wealthy English tourist of the "Winter Home on the Mediterranean" and the "Yacht Lying Outside" order is in search of health, amusement and an ideal, with the assistance of the Magic Cap. "The Show Girl" furnishes the love affair, the comedians work overtime in the fun factory, and the manager allows his imagination to run riot in presenting scenic effects, impressionable songs, dances and musical numbers which naturally are new and unique and thanks to the Magic Cap, enchant the Englishman and his large party of friends which in this instance will prove to be the audience. Seats are now on sale at Plummer's. Prices range from 25c to $1.00.

Brilliant Original New York Production.

"Knee-deep" in songs, dances, girls and plot, "The Beauty Spot", the musical comedy by Reginald DeKoven and Joseph Herbert with Jefferson DeAngelis as the star, comes to the Academy Monday night and seats go on sale tomorrow morning at Plummer's.

The plot revolves around the fact that the wife of General Samovar has a mole on her left knee, but it was not that that worried him. He knew she had it, and she knew she had it, and he knew that she knew that he knew she had it, and she knew that he knew that she knew that he knew she had it. It didn't bother her in the least. She was only intensely grateful that it was on her knee rather than on the end of her nose, so she was content. But the General was greatly worried as to just how in the world did the other fellow know just where the beauty spot was. Enough of this plot-telling, however. It will suffice to add that the picture which reveals guilty knowledge of the beauty spot in Anthony Comsockized in time to quell the scandal.

Reginald DeKoven's contribution to the offering is delightful. "The Boulevard Glide," a brand new dancing concered number ought to give the forlorn dancing inventors an idea for the season's sensational society dance.

The management has made every effort in he matter of grouping girls, trailing, marching, dancing and maneuvering processionals and ballets in huge crowds. The two scenes, though completely blotted out at times by a firmament of jewel-bedecked feminine beauty, a parade of glossy arms, twinkling slippers, floating and flying spangled scarfs, and stratling lingerie, are scenes, unique in idea and beautifully painted.

Mr. DeAngelis is supported by a company of well-known people who were associated with him during the seven months' run at the Herald Square Theatre, New York, among whom are George J. MacFarlane, Viola Gillette, Florence Martin, Joseph Fay, Chas. W. Meyer, Inez Dean, Arvid Paulson, Ida Vantine and 60 others.

Change of Programme at Crystal.

There was a complete change of programme at the Crystal Palace yesterday and at each performance there was a large and well pleased audience. The bill this week is very clever and entertaining. The people are showing their appreciation of the efforts of Manager Peiffer in giving the city a first-class vaudeville playhouse by their liberal patronage. In addition to the vaudeville bill the Crystal is now giving two excellent motion pictures at each performance.

At the Bijou Today.

"Wilful Peggy," a story of the early days in Ireland, will be the feature of today's bill at the Bijou theatre. It is a Biograph subject. Another fine picture is entitled "Dumb Half-Breed's Defense," an intensely dramatic story of the West. It shows the tremendous odds against an innocent dumb half-breed, accused of the murder of his sister and her brutal husband, and how he cleared himself in a pantomimic defense.

It Saved His Leg.

"All thought I'd lose my leg," writes J. A. Swensen, of Watertown, Wis. "Ten years of eczema, that 15 doctors could not cure, had at last laid me up. Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured it, sound and well." Infallible for Skin Eruptions, Eczema, Salt Rheum, Boils, Fever Sores, Burns, Scalds Cuts and Piles. 25c. at Robert B. Bellamy's.

THE JEWISH NEW YEAR.

Celebration of Event Begins Monday and Concludes Tuesday.

The Jewish New Year, which begins at sunset Monday, October 3rd, and continues until the same time the following day, will be appropriately observed by those of the Jewish faith in this city as usual. The event is known in the Jewish calendar as the Rosh-Hosannah, or the Feast of the New Year. It is a season of solemnity and rejoicing in the Jewish church. Services will be held in the Temple of Israel, corner Fourth and Market streets, the first at 6 P. M. Monday, and the second at 10 A. M. Tuesday, which is the New Year proper. The services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. S. Mendelsohn, the Rabbi.

THE EDINBURGH CONFERENCE.

Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells Will Tell of Laymen's Meeting Sunday Morning.

Members of the congregation of the First Presbyterian church and many members of other churches of the city, will be interested to learn that at the morning service Sunday the pastor, Rev. Dr. John M. Wells, will tell something of the World's Laymen's Missionary Conference held in Edinburgh, Scotland, last June, which he attended as a delegate. Dr. Wells is deeply interested in the Laymen's Missionary Movement and his remarks Sunday relative to the great meeting held in Scotland will not only be interesting but will be instructive.

MORE PINKHAM CURES

Added to the Long List due to This Famous Remedy.

Oronogo, Mo.—"I was simply a nervous wreck. I could not walk across the floor without my heart fluttering and I could not even receive a letter. Every month I had such a bearing down sensation, as if the lower parts would fall out. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done my nerves a great deal of good and has also relieved the bearing down. I recommended it to some friends and two of them have been greatly benefited by it."—Mrs. MAE MCKNIGHT, Oronogo, Mo.

Another Grateful Woman.

St. Louis, Mo.—"I was bothered terribly with a female weakness and had backache, bearing down pains and pains in lower parts. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound regularly and used the Sanative Wash and now I have no more troubles that way."—Mrs. AL. HERZOG, 5722 Prescott Ave., St. Louis, Mo.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, indigestion, dizziness, and nervous prostration. It costs but a trifle to try it, and the result is worth millions to many suffering women.

A SHARP ADVANCE IN COTTON

Followed Early Decline in the Market Yesterday—Influenced by Bullish Crop Reports—Conditions.

New ork Sept. 29.—An early decline in the cotton market was followed by a sharp advance, but only the late months sold above the high level of yesterday and the close was off from the best under realizing and selling for a reaction, although the final tone was very steady at a net decline of 1 point on November with other deliveries 3 to 11 points net higher.

Business was very active during the morning and after opening steady at a decline of 3 to 15 points, the near months relatively easy in sympathy with Liverpool, prices advanced on covering by some of yesterday's late sellers and a renewal of aggressive support from prominent Wall Street and Western operators. The cables were lower than due on the New York close of yesterday but showed weakness as would indicate that the English trade is taking a serious view of the Lancashire situation and this probably encouraged buying here while support was also influenced by further bullish private crop reports. Offerings were very heavy, being not only in the way of realizing but also representing rather more confidence on the part of reactionists yet they were readily absorbed and it was not until the market showed a net gain of from 9 to 15 points with January and later months selling a point or so above the high level of yesterday that there was any reaction of consequence. Then demand became little less active and prices eased off 6 or 7 points from the top under continued realizing and a little selling from spot people who were supposed to be operating on the failure of Southern spot markets to respond more readily to the local advance. Only two or three of the Southern markets reported early were 1-8c higher and some of the more important markets were unchanged with Savannah easy. It was reported during the day that the National Ginners' Association made the condition of the crop 66 per cent. against 70.8 last month and another private estimate issued made the condition 65.4 per cent. comparing with the official figures of 58.5 last year. This authority also estimated the crop at 10,600,000 bales, with an average frost date. The West Indian storm was reported still moving westward, but attracted less attention than yesterday.

Receipts at the ports today 63,822 bales against 29,990 last week and 67,989 last year; for the week 325,000 bales against 241,946 last week and 330,881 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 8,285 bales against 6,113 last year, and at Houston 17,756 bales against 15,884 last year.

Spot cotton closed quiet and unchanged: middling uplands 13.75; middling gulf 14.00; sales 5,727 bales. Futures opened steady and closed steady.

COTTON MARKET YESTERDAY.

Temper of Trade in Favor of High Prices—New Buying.

(Special Star Telegram.)

New York, Sept. 29.—New buying in anticipation of a bullish bureau report absorbed the heavy profit taking which has occurred from time to time during the day. These buyers have at times taken the liquidation as almost personal, so sure do they feel of higher prices after the report is published. October was relatively easy as it became evident that tenders would be made from the recent receipts at this port on both September and October. The temper of the trade is distinctly in favor of high prices. The sellers at the low level early in the month are now conspicious buyers.

Liverpool is expected to become a buyer during October, and the threatened lockout is thought to indicate this action.

A LISTLESS DAY FOR STOCKS

Caused by Decline in Reading on the Market Yesterday—United States Steel and Union Pacific Factors.

New York, Sept. 29.—Speculation in stocks assumed an extremely listless tone today when Reading fell back from its excessive prominence. This change was only by comparison with the last few days, that stock, United States Steel and Union Pacific retaining their old predominance with dealings of more than half the aggregate for the whole market. The principal gains were established shortly before the closing which was strong.

The course of the preparations for October money settlements absorbed a large share of attention in the financial district to the exclusion of stock speculation. Another rise in the call money rate indicated that a lessening of loanable funds might be a positive influence in the dullness of the market. The fact that the rise in money rates was not confined to the call loan division, carries the implication that the conditions are not merely temporary, or had to do with the October first payments. Time loans for the nearer maturities, especially those which just carry over the end of the present year, are notably affected. A somewhat easier tone for commercial paper is ascribed to a lessening of supply, rather than to an increase in the demand from buyers.

On the foreign exchange side, the course of foreign money markets holds rates against relief for the local money markets.

A feature of the day's markets was the liquidation for the completion of the process of maturing that crop. The increasing prospect of a bumper crop of that cereal had a helpful effect on stocks especially those immediately concerned with the movement and use of corn.

The special weakness of American Sugar was taken to be due to an apprehension that the case of the government against that corporation may be made a prominent feature in the political campaign in New York State this Fall.

The firm money market has not checked the improved demand for bonds. A feature is the reappearance on the tape of many investment issues which have been dormant for a long time past. The tone was strong. Total sales par value $4,608,000.

United States bonds were unchanged on call. Total sales for the day 337,000 shares, including: Sugar, 4,000; Tobacco, 100; A. C. L. 100; C. & O. 15,900; L. & N. 200; N. & W., 200; Reading, 72,300; Southern Railway, 600; Southern Railway preferred, 200; U. P. 5,600; U. S. Ste l, 56,300; V. C. C., 1,200.

THE GRAIN MARKET.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Assurances that the corn crop everywhere is now practically safe from danger of damage resulted today in the lowest prices of the season for that grain and tumbled down quotations for wheat and oats. Net losses were 1 1-2 to 1 5-8 to 1 3-4c in wheat, 1 to 1 1-4 cents in corn and 7-8 to 1 to 1 1-8 on oats. Provisions closed at 5 to 15 advance to 20c decline.

CABINET IS STILL BUSY.

Devoting Its Time to Estimates of Governmental Departments.

Washington, Sept. 29.—The cabinet continued its daily sessions at the White House today. All matters of general interest have been disposed of, it is understood, and the cabinet is now said to be devoting its time to estimates submitted by various governmental departments.

The President and General Wood, chief of staff, continued their examination of the War Department estimates for the appropriation for the next fiscal year and further reductions than the $10,000,000 already announced in the total as compared with the current appropriation, were determined upon. The revised estimates provide for $2,000,000 for immediate use in the fortification of the Panama Canal and it is probable that before the work is completed appropriations of approximately $20,000,000 altogether will be needed. The consideration of the army estimates will be completed tomorrow.

The naval estimates, as finally passed upon today, show a reduction of $4,000,000 under the appropriations for the present year, and, as announced by Secretary Meyer, the building programme provides for the next year is two battleships and two colliers.

CARDINAL VANNUTELLI.

Received Welcome to New York Yesterday—Representing the Pope.

Washington, Sept. 29.—Welcomed at the Union station by a throng of several thousand Catholics, half of whom were school children, Cardinal Vincenzo Vannutelli, who represented Pius X at the International Eucharistic Congress at Montreal., arrived in Washington today. The reception was an inspiring spectacle, designed as an unofficial American and Catholic greeting of the nation's capital to a Prince of the church. The prelate, accompanied by Monsignor Diogde Falcanio, the Apostolic delegate, Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul, and Bishop O'Connell, of San Francisco, were received by President Taft this forenoon, who added his word of greeting to the distinguished churchman. The apostolic delegate Monsignor Falconio tonight was host at a dinner to Cardinal Vannutelli at the papal legation. There were present many prominent members of the Catholic clergy in Washington.

The prelate will leave for Baltimore for Saturday and be the guest for a short time of Cardinal Gibbons. Later in the day he will proceed to New York, stopping off on the way for a two hour stay in Philadelphia.

LORD MAYOR OF LONDON.

First Teetotaler, Sir Thomas Strong, Elected Without Opposition.

London, Sept. 29.—Sir Thomas Vesey Strong today was elected Lord Mayor of London without opposition. Sir Thomas is a pronounced temperance advocate and enjoys the distinction of being the first teetotaler chosen as chief magistrate of the metropolis. He was born in 1857 and in 1900 married Lillie, the eldest daughter of the late James Hartnell.

Sir Thomas was educated privately and is credited with being a self-made man. In business he has been successful as the head of a paper supply firm. He was knighted while occupying the office of sheriff in the city of London. He is a director of the United Kingdam temperance and general provident institution and a commander of the Order of Isabella, the Catholic of Spain, and the order of Our Lady Villa Vicez of Portugal.

The mayor will figure prominently in the entertainments and ceremonies connected with the coronation of King George.

RAISES DISCOUNT RATE.

Bank of England Sent it up to Four Per Cent. Yesterday.

London, Sept. 29.—As has been anticipated the Bank of England raised its discount rate to 4 per cent. today.

The advance was due chiefly to the large outflow of gold to Egypt and Turkey, the prospective Indian demand and the fact that the weekly arrivals are being steadily absorbed by the continent. The recent advance in the German bank rate and yesterday's smart rise in market discounts hastened the bank's decision.

BROOKIN'S FLIGHT DISTANCE RECORD

continually. Every window was filled with heads peering up into the sky and on overturned suit cases many wrote to friends of their remarkable experience of racing an aeroplane.

Every country cross road had its quota of gazers and every village was filled with skygazers. Trainmen would ask when they came up: "Where is he?" and the reply always was: "Way up ahead there."

The first stop at Gilman, Ill., was made by arrangement. There Brookins alighted in a cornfield. He had no difficulty in pushing the machine out into the open ground, where he waited 14 minutes for the train to come up. He called out to the passengers: "How am I making it? I have been here more than an hour, it seems to me. Where are the rest of the fellows with my oil and gasoline?"

After these necessaries had been provided, Brookins conversed with the newspaper reporters and said: "Well, I must get away, if I am to have luncheon with you at Springfield."

At Mount Pulaski he showed no more concern. This was 24 miles from the capitol whose dome he saw when he rose high on the last leg of his trip. Ignoring Wilbur Wright's instruction to fly only half an hour more because of the broken pump, Brookins aimed for the dome of the main building in the fair grounds. The propellors whirred true and he soared to the fair grounds with no sign of further trouble. He sailed high, about 2,000 feet up until ready to make the daring swoope and curves with which he landed safely in the fair grounds.

The roaring cheer which greeted his arrival at the goal seemed to the men in the racing train to be only a swelling of the almost continuous cheer that had greeted the daring aviator all the way from Chicago.

As soon as he had his machine stored and guarded Brookins, who is 22 years old, went to Springfield to keep his luncheon appointment with the reporters. The World's record for continued flight, previously held by Glenn H. Curtiss at 141 miles had been set at 192 1-2 miles by Brookins in a Wright biplane.

THE WEST POINT TROUBLE.

Statement From Cadet Tells of Conditions—About Capt. Longan.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 29.—The exact statement of the cadets side of the existing trouble at West Point Military Academy, as a consequence of which the entire corps is under restrictions, was given in a confidential letter from one of the cadets to a friend in this city, who said tonight:

"The cadets allege that Capt. Longan started out at West Point by saying: 'This here corps has gone to hell. I'll make 'em buck up.'

"The trouble was cumulative. First, on the target range, though it is by order that the cadets as a protection from the concussion of the guns, put cotton in their ears. Capt. Longan accused them of stuffing their ears with cotton so that they could not hear his commands. The young men were surprised, but said nothing.

"Second, the cadets say that he 'cussed out' one of the finest men in the first class.

"Third, when Cadet Burt, first classman, returned from his brother's funeral, he himself having appendicitis at the time he went twice to Capt. Longan's office to report. Each time Capt. Longan was absent at the officers' club. Accordingly Cadet Captain Bradley, of the corps, officer of the day and next in command, inspected Burt's baggage took his money and contraband and sent him to the hospital. Next day Burt was operated upon and was also reported three times by Longan. Bradley told Capt. Longan the circumstances but the captain would not believe him and started in on a tirade against Burt.

"Fourth, one of the cadets 'visited' across the hall in the barracks. Capt. Longan thought erroneously that it was a first classman, whereupon he reported the wrong man. The first classman explained in writing that the report was a mistake. Capt. Longan, calling him up, said, 'I don't believe what you say in your explanation. You've got to prove your statements.' One inviolable rule of West Point is that when a cadet gives his word of honor it is always taken without question. No greater affront can be put upon a cadet than to question his veracity.

"The final grievance was when Capt. Longan made 'area birds' walk in the rain. Under this form of punishment cadets have to walk with the guns two hours on Wednesday afternoon and four hours on Saturday afternoon. It is the immemorial custom that they can walk on the stoop barracks when it rains. But Capt. Longan lined them out in the downpour, he being under cover, dry and smoking a pipe and said: 'You men have got to walk in the rain, for I'll show you who is boss around here.' Moreover, he refused to let the men oil their guns and made the corporals take the rages out the bores, so that the cadets had to clean off rust for days afterwards.

"The first 'silence' was spontaneous and fairly without the element of premeditated conspiracy. The men simply refused to eat or to speak a word while Longan was in the room. It was wrong insubordinate, but human. It was a tacit rebellion against what the cadets felt to be tyranny. The men do not regret their action. Their attitude is that their code has been broken and their word questioned.

"If every cadet is called before the court of inquiry and asked if the above statements are true, he will answer affirmatively though not a man of them has yet consented to say more to the court than 'We have formed a dislike for this officer.'

"The men resent Capt. Longan's explanation that he was a new man and that the cadets wanted to break him in, and they feel that he has not made a correct statement, but they have got confidence in the justice and common sense of General Barry, the superintendent, who they believe, will put a different light upon the situation within another week."

The ads will show you whether or not there's a chance today to buy that piece of furniture at your price.

City is the gubernatorial nominee, the name of Thomas M. Osborne, of Auburn, is most prominently mentioned for second place in accordance with time honored custom as an up-State man. Mr. Osborne's backers, however, are still conducting his fight for first place.

Parker's Telling Address.

Except for the address of Alton B. Parker today, the opening session of the convention was purely routine Mr. Parker read his address from manuscript in measured tones. He was greeted by scattered applause when he delivered a telling phrase. Mention of the old time leaders, especially Tilden, Cleveland and Hill, brought cheers and the delegates showed interest in his criticism of the tariff, his references to the increased cost of living and particularly his charges that the national administration had been inexcusably extravagant.

But the real enthusiasm of the day came when he laid aside his set speech and launched with energy into a bitter attack on executive interference in legislative and judicial public business and the ascendency of Theodore Roosevelt in the late convention at Saratoga, which he declared had been achieved by the aid of Federal office holders in the face of insincere denunciation of machine rule and the bosses.

At the conclusion of the key-note speech, the committee on contested seats, permanent organization and resolutions were named and adjournment was taken until 1 o'clock tomorrow. The committee on resolutions went into session late in the afternoon and the deliberations on the platform was given to a sub-committee which included Seymour Van Santvoord, of Renselaer, chairman of the full committee; Morgan J. O'Brien, New York; John B. Stanchfield, Chemung and Norman E. Mack, Erie.

The consideration of the direct primary plank was begun as soon as the sub-committee went into session.

MOUNT OLIVE AFFAIRS.

Office of Public Weigher—Personal and General News Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Mount Olive, N. C., Sept. 28.—About two weeks ago the town of Mount Olive by ordinance established the office of public weigher, with platform scales, requiring that all cotton seed and several other kinds of marketable produce sold here by weight shall be weighed on those scales. Last week the scales were installed and the ordinance went into effect. It appears that there are two distinct, strong and well defined factions as to the necessity and advantage of such scales, one faction being very strong in favor, while the other is so strongly opposed to the measure that the matter will likely be taken to the courts for a test of the town's power to create the office and require such weighing for which the weigher is to collect a fee from the person offering the produce for sale. Mr. David N. McGhee has been appointed weigher.

Rev. P. A. Anthony, pastor of the Baptist church here, is assisted by Rev. C. M. Rock, of North Wilkesboro, in a series of meetings at the Calypso Baptist church.

Rev. Peter McIntyre, of the Presbyterian church here returned last week from Dalhousie, New Brunswick, Canada, his old home, where he spent about two months and preached at the Presbyterian church here last Sunday night to the great pleasure and delight of his fond and appreciative congregation.

Mr. and Mrs. DuBrutz English and their little daughtear, Henrietta, returned this morning from a visit of several weeks with friends at Smithsbury, Md., and report a splendid time.

The many friends here of Rev. E. E. Rose, pastor of the Methodist church, are glad to see him out after several days' sickness.

News reached here Monday of the death at Charlottesville, Va. of Mrs. L. Frank Oates, widow of the late Thos. Oates, of this city. She had been quite ill for some time and had been in Charlottesville for several months. Her remains were taken to Spencer, N. C., the home of her brother-in-law, Rev. J. N. Stallings, for interrement yesterday.

Already much interest is manifested in the joint discussion here Saturday night, Oct. 8th, between Dr. Falson and Maj. Geo. E. Butler.

HONORED TSAI SUUN.

Salute of 15 Guns Fired From Training Station.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 29.—As a mark of respect to his rank, a salute of fifteen guns were fired from the training station when Vice-Admiral Tsai Suun, second price in rank and direct representative of the Chinese government arrived at the navy yard here today.

He was met at the North Landing of the yard by Captain J. P. Parker, acting commandant, and his aide, and escorted throughout the entire naval station here.

The marine guard was paraded in honor of his visit to the yard. Later he boarded one of the yard tugs and was taken to Norfolk, where he spent some time.

Accompanying Prince Suun was his entire retinue of nearly a dozen officers of rank.

The party arrived in Hampton Roads this morning on the President's yacht Mayflower. They visited the ship yard at Newport News during the day.

NEWSPAPER PLANT BURNS.

Times-Democrat Building in New Orleans Destroyed.

New Orleans, Sept. 29.—Practically the entire plant of the Times-Democrat Publishing Company was destroyed by fire, originating shortly before midnight in the paper warehouse on the first floor of the building. Other nearby buildings seemed doomed at one time, but firemen succeeded in confining the blaze to the Times-Democrat and to a warehouse in the rear of the building. Estimates place the loss of the Times-Democrat at more than $125,000, partly covered by insurance.

New York, Sept. 29.—Prince Tsai Suun, uncle of the Emperor of China, and brother of the Prince Regent with his suite, arrived here from Washington tonight, and was escorted to his hotel by a detail of United States army officers, a detachment of mounted police, and delegations from the several Chinese societies of the city.
